SCALING

Growth begins with the decision to prepare for demand that is still gathering force.

Across India, new factories, data centers, semiconductor facilities, power networks, transport corridors and urban projects are expanding the country's electricity needs. Each addition places greater responsibility on the systems that carry power safely and reliably. For KEI, this creates an opportunity that must be matched with readiness.

That readiness is taking shape across our business.

Sanand has begun adding the capacity required to support growth in the cables business. Chinchpada is supporting the next increase in wires. Our planned investments at Salarpur and Kheda (Vadodara) will further expand our capacity base over the coming years. Simultaneously, we are widening our dealer network, strengthening our presence across domestic markets and rebuilding scale in key export geographies.

Each investment is made to capitalize on larger opportunities.

More capacity allows us to respond faster

Growth in FY 2026-27, supported primarily by new capacity at Sanand and expansion of wires capacity at Chinchpada

Wider market access helps us place that capacity effectively

60+ countries

Served through KEI's international market presence.

Strong technical capabilities allow us to serve more demanding applications

Up to 400 kV

Existing EHV cable capability, backed by qualification under various international standards

A net debt-free balance sheet gives us the freedom to keep investing with discipline

₹ 600-700 crore

Planned annual capital expenditure over the medium term entirely through internal accruals

The next stage of KEI's growth will come from bringing these strengths together. Capacity must come onstream on time. Markets must develop alongside it. Execution must convert both into sustained performance.

This is how we are Scaling Capacity. Accelerating Growth.

ANIL GUPTA
Chairman-cum-Managing Director

Dear Shareholders,

During my years in this industry, I have seen India move from basic electrification to far more complex requirements across transmission, distribution, industrial applications and consumer wiring. The scale is now much larger. Government spending on roads, railways, metros, urban infrastructure and power networks is running alongside private investment in manufacturing, data centers, renewable energy, oil and gas, commercial real estate and housing. State industrialization programs are creating new manufacturing clusters, including in Uttar Pradesh and other high-growth regions. Each investment adds load to the power system and generates demand across EHV, HT, LT, control, instrumentation and housing wires.

The global operating environment remained uncertain during FY 2025-26. Tariff changes, geopolitical tensions, shipping disruptions and commodity-price volatility affected trade and supply chains. India continued to benefit from domestic demand, public capital expenditure and manufacturing investment. This base gives the wires and cables industry a broad demand pool. Renewable generation needs evacuation infrastructure. Data centers require incoming high-voltage power, medium-voltage distribution and copper cables within their facilities. Semiconductor and advanced manufacturing plants require stable power systems and cables built to exact technical standards. Transport and urban projects require large quantities of power, signaling, fire-survival and specialized cables. This is the demand behind our investment plan.

Performance review

We closed FY 2025-26 with revenue of ₹ 11,748 crore, an increase of 20.66% over the previous year. EBITDA increased by 30.56% to ₹ 1,388 crore, while EBITDA margin improved to 11.81% from 10.92%. Profit after tax stood at ₹ 918 crore, with a PAT margin of 7.82%.

The wires and cables segment grew by 22.32% during the year. Higher copper and aluminum prices contributed to value growth, while our product mix, pricing discipline and operating controls supported the improvement in profitability.

Our order book reflects broad-based demand across EHV cables, domestic institutional business and exports, providing strong visibility across key markets and customer segments. This momentum is further reinforced by continued growth in our retail business, supported by a well-established dealer and distribution network and sustained demand across our market presence.

Demand across our core markets

Domestic institutional demand remained broad-based. Power transmission and distribution, solar and wind projects, thermal power generation, oil and gas, data centers, railways, metros, highways, tunnels, commercial construction and residential development continued to generate business. The semi-conductor and electronics manufacturing ecosystem is also creating demand for stable power infrastructure and technically reliable cable solutions.

Domestic institutional cable and wire sales stood at ₹ 2,688 crore. Domestic institutional EHV cable sales increased by 82% to ₹ 559 crore. Our existing EHV facility operated close to full capacity, supported by established approvals, execution experience and customer relationships. We expect EHV demand to remain strong as India expands transmission capacity and strengthens the grid for rising power generation and consumption.

The dealer and distribution business delivered sales of ₹ 6,349 crore, an increase of 25% and accounted for 54% of overall sales. Our active dealer base reached approximately 2,125 at the end of the year. Housing wire sales also grew by approximately 32% during the year.

Our retail plan is focused on productivity and market quality. We are increasing the network selectively, strengthening capable dealers and replacing weaker partners where required. Eastern and southern India remain priority markets. We are adding sales personnel, onboarding dealers and increasing local market engagement in these regions. Product quality, availability, brand investment and service support will remain central to this expansion.

Exponential exports

Export sales increased by 45% to ₹ 1,833 crore during FY 2025-26. We now serve customers across more than 60 countries, with established business in the Middle East, Australia and Africa and a growing presence in Europe and the United States. Our export mix includes EHV, HT and LT cables used in utilities, renewable energy, oil and gas and infrastructure projects.

The United States market had slowed as tariff uncertainty affected customer decisions. With tariff-related issues now easing, business conditions have improved and customer engagement has resumed. We are reconnecting with existing customers while pursuing new accounts, supported by strong demand visibility from the market. We therefore expect the US to contribute sizeable growth to our exports and remain an important growth market over the coming years.

We have also started building business in Europe, including opportunities linked to solar and other energy projects. Australia and Africa contribute steadily, while the Middle East remains a priority market where we intend to strengthen our presence as regional conditions stabilize. Alongside deepening our position in established overseas markets, we will continue to foray into new geographies to expand the growth opportunity for our export business.

Our export strategy is based on diversification. Capacity can be directed toward domestic institutional customers, retail markets or exports based on demand and returns. This flexibility reduces dependence on any single geography or customer segment. We aim to increase export contribution to 20% of sales over medium term.

Capacity for the next five years

Capacity addition is central to our five-year plan. Sanand Phase I was commissioned in December 2025 and production at the facility has been ramping up steadily month-on-month. We expect Sanand to make a major contribution to our topline growth in FY 2026-27 as utilization increases throughout the year.

Sanand Phase I adds LT and HT cable capacity and includes an electron-beam facility for specialized uses in renewables, railways, transportation, aerospace, industrial, nuclear plants and other critical infrastructure projects. Alongside this, the Chinchpada plant will support growth in wires during FY 2026-27, while Sanand will drive the increase in cable volumes. Sanand Phase II will add EHV cable capacity through a vertical tower, along with additional HT cable capacity, and is scheduled for commissioning by March 2027. This facility is being designed to meet domestic and international requirements up to the 500 kV voltage grade. It will expand our ability to serve utilities and large projects in India and overseas.

During FY 2025-26, we acquired 18 acres of industrial land at Salarpur, Rajasthan, close to our existing manufacturing facilities. We plan to invest around ₹ 700 crore at this location to add cables capacity and strengthen backward integration through GI wire manufacturing. The new facility is expected to be commissioned by September 2028. This facility will support business expansion and backward integration. We have acquired approximately 70 acres of land in Kheda, Vadodara. The conversion of land for industrial use is underway and is expected to be completed by the end of FY 2026-27, with plant construction scheduled to begin the following year.

These investments form a planned capacity pipeline for the next few years. We expect annual capital expenditure of around ₹ 600-700 crore, aligned with demand across retail, institutional and export markets. These investments are intended to support a revenue CAGR of around 20% over the medium term.

Technology, quality and market access

Our growth depends on technical capability as much as physical capacity. Our NABL-accredited R&D and testing infrastructure supports product development, customization and qualifications for demanding applications. We manufacture EHV cables up to 400 kV and are preparing for 500 kV and HVDC applications. Our product range includes solutions for renewable power, EV infrastructure, marine applications, fire safety and specialized industrial use.

Sanand's vertical tower, electron-beam processing capability and export-oriented design will add to this base. Global approvals and country-specific certifications remain essential for utility and infrastructure markets. Our experience with international testing agencies and major Indian authorities reduces the time required to qualify new products and enter new accounts.

We are also increasing the use of digital systems across manufacturing, quality control, planning and performance monitoring. Real-time production visibility, digital approvals and better data support faster decisions and more consistent execution.

Financial discipline and governance

We are funding growth from a net debt-free balance sheet. We maintain adequate cash for working capital and business requirements, especially during periods of sharp movement in copper and aluminum prices.

Our capital allocation plan directs the larger part of annual cash generation toward capacity creation, with the balance used for incremental working capital. We are also improving the business mix by increasing retail, export and institutional business of LT, HT and EHV cables and lowering EPC business. Retail has a shorter working-capital cycle, while EPC requires longer capital deployment. Better capital allocation supports growth without increasing working capital requirements and improves returns.

Our long-term and short-term ratings, AA+ and A1+, respectively, recognize this financial discipline. Our information security systems were strengthened through ISO 27001:2022 certification. We continue to reinforce internal controls, risk management, compliance and Board oversight as the scale of the business increases.

Responsible growth

We are strengthening ESG performance through wider accountability across our operations and value chain. During the year, we completed life-cycle assessments for key products and expanded our work on Scope 3 emissions, supplier assessments and product-level environmental disclosures. Our roadmap includes higher renewable-energy use, stronger water recycling, greater material recovery and the adoption of minimum sustainability practices by our critical suppliers. These initiatives will support better operating performance and stronger outcomes across ESG assessment frameworks.

Across our manufacturing operations, we are increasing our focus on energy efficiency, water management, waste reduction, responsible sourcing and product safety. Safety remains a daily operating responsibility. All our manufacturing units are certified to ISO 45001:2018 and employees completed 10,771 hours of health and safety training during the year. Process controls, training and regular reviews support safer plants and more consistent execution.

Our social investments continued across education, healthcare, hunger eradication and livelihood support. CSR spending stood at ₹ 157.88 million during FY 2025-26. Through Samriddhi Jyoti, we reached more than 11,000 electricians with financial literacy, savings awareness and access to government-backed insurance schemes. Our support for Ekal Vidyalayas reached children across rural and tribal communities, while our healthcare and food programs served vulnerable groups.

People remain central to every expansion. New facilities require trained teams, strong operating systems and clear accountability. We are investing in recruitment, technical training, leadership development and digital capability to prepare the organization for the scale ahead.

FY 2026-27 and beyond

We enter FY 2026-27 with firm demand, additional capacity and a diversified market base. We expect CAGR growth of 20% over the medium term. Sanand and Chinchpada plants, along with new facility at Salarpur will provide the capacity required for this growth. Retail expansion, EHV demand and higher exports will support utilization.

Our growth outlook for the next five years is supported by a strong demand environment and the additional capacities being created across cables and EHV cables. As Sanand ramps up and the next phase of EHV capacity comes onstream, we will be better placed to address rising requirements from power transmission and distribution, renewables, infrastructure, data centers, industrial projects and exports. Further capacity additions planned at Salarpur will extend this runway. Supported by these investments, deeper retail penetration and wider international reach, we are targeting revenue growth of around 20% CAGR over the medium term while maintaining financial discipline.

I thank our employees for their commitment, our customers for their confidence, our dealers and distributors for expanding the KEI brand and our suppliers, Government and business partners for their support. I also thank our shareholders, lenders, Board members and communities for their continued trust.

We will continue to invest, execute and grow with discipline.

Warm regards,

Anil Gupta

Operating Context

Powered by the opportunity landscape

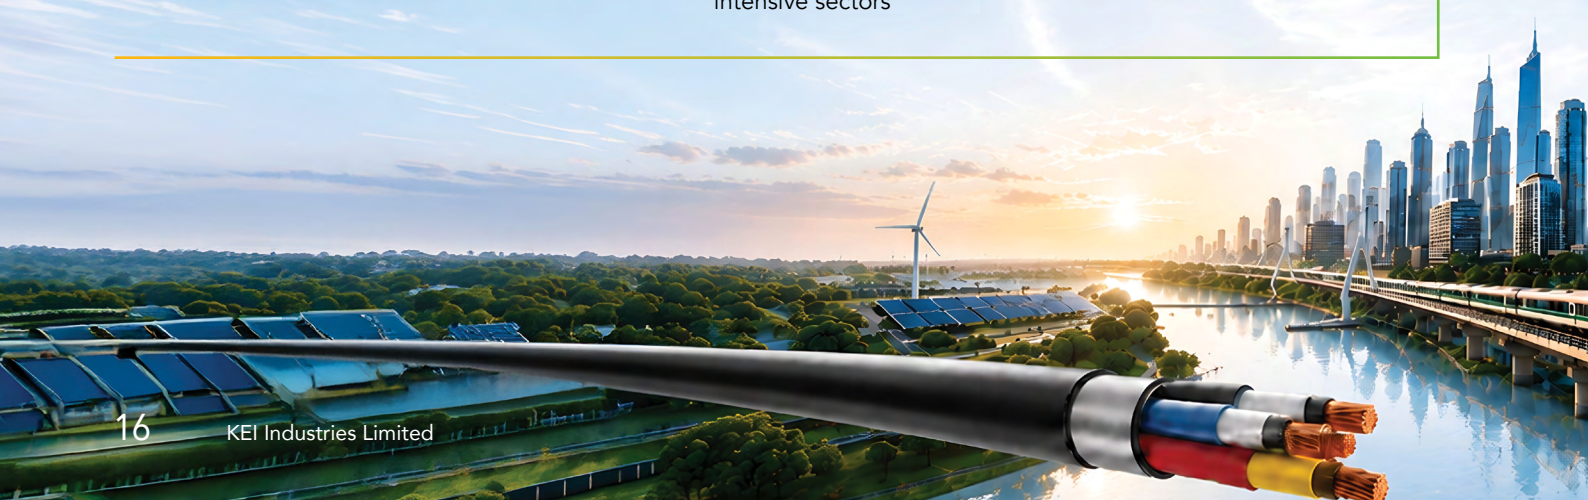

India's next growth cycle is becoming increasingly power intensive. The proposed capacity addition requires stronger transmission networks. Factories, data centers and transport infrastructure need more sophisticated electrical systems, while expanding cities are driving demand for safer, higher-performance wiring solutions. These factors are broadening demand across EHV, HT, LT, specialized cables and house wires simultaneously. For organized manufacturers, the opportunity is therefore moving beyond volume growth towards higher-value applications, greater technical complexity and a wider addressable market, both in India and overseas.

A CHANGING POWER MIX IS RESHAPING THE GRID

India's power system is expanding to serve rising electricity demand across industrial, commercial and urban centers, while renewable energy is becoming a larger part of the generation mix. This transition is increasing the need to evacuate power from new generation locations and transmit it efficiently to consumption centers across the country. The transition is also creating greater requirements for grid strengthening, inter-regional connectivity and reliable distribution infrastructure. As investment moves further into transmission networks, underground cabling and higher-voltage systems, demand is widening for EHV, HT and other specialized power cables.

Our response

- Expanding cable capacity through Sanand, with the next phase strengthening our EHV capabilities and supporting higher-voltage applications
- Leveraging our portfolio spanning EHV cables up to 400 kV, HT/LT cables, solar cables and control and instrumentation cables
- Combining product capabilities with experience in underground cabling and power transmission and distribution projects
- New capex planned for expanding LT & HT cable capacity through Salarpur facility to address rising requirements from power distribution, infrastructure and industrial applications
- Annual Capex planned at ₹ 600-700 crore over the medium term to progressively add capacity and stay aligned with sustained demand across power, infrastructure and other cable-intensive sectors

INFRASTRUCTURE, MANUFACTURING AND DIGITAL CAPEX

India's public and private investment cycle is widening the addressable market for cables. Transportation infrastructure, railways, metros and industrial expansion are increasing electrical intensity, while manufacturing-led investments and automation require increasingly sophisticated connectivity solutions. Digital infrastructure adds another high-growth demand pool. India's data center market is projected to expand at around 35% CAGR over the next four years, with wires and cables accounting for an estimated 8-10% of project capex.

Our response

- Expanding manufacturing capacity to address demand across institutional, retail and export markets
- Continuing investment in product development, testing and specialized solutions for emerging applications

URBANIZATION, REAL ESTATE AND PREMIUMIZATION

Real estate remains one of the significant domestic end-use markets for wires and cables. Residential construction, commercial developments, premium housing and urban infrastructure are supporting sustained consumption of house wires and low-voltage cables. Alongside volume growth, stricter building standards and greater awareness of electrical safety are accelerating demand for branded, certified and higher-performance products, including fire-resistant and low-smoke solutions.

Our response

- Deepening market access through 2,125 active dealers and a growing pan-India distribution network
- Developing advanced and safety-focused solutions through our NABL-accredited R&D capabilities to participate in the premiumization opportunity
- Offering Green Wire as an eco-friendly solution in response to the growing preference for safer, more sustainable and higher-specification products in modern buildings

GLOBAL ELECTRIFICATION OPENING NEW MARKETS

Global investments in grid modernization, renewable energy, digital infrastructure and transport electrification are widening demand for advanced cable solutions. Similarly, supply-chain diversification is creating greater sourcing opportunities for competitive manufacturing destinations. India's improving capabilities, quality standards and cost position are strengthening its relevance in global procurement, opening a broader runway for Indian cable manufacturers across international markets.

Our response

- Serving customers across 60+ countries, with established presence across Australia, the Middle East, Africa and growing participation in Europe and the US
- Scaling manufacturing capacity and international certifications to address increasingly demanding global applications
- Re-engaging the US market while continuing to expand across established and emerging export geographies. Management expects exports to become a larger contributor as new capacity ramps up

Strategic Priorities

Strategic levers for the next phase

Our approach to strategy is guided by sustained value creation and forward-readiness. We focus on building scale, strengthening execution capabilities and deepening our presence across key markets. Each decision is driven by long-term growth potential, capital efficiency and operational agility. This disciplined direction enables us to respond to changing demand dynamics and position ourselves as a trusted and resilient enterprise.

S1 CAPACITY EXPANSION

Our capacity expansion strategy is focused on strengthening the manufacturing ecosystem through calibrated greenfield and brownfield investments. The new Sanand facility and ongoing capacity additions reinforce our production scale, technological depth and operational resilience. The expanded infrastructure will enable faster delivery, deeper market penetration and greater readiness to serve rising domestic and global demand. The efforts are aligned to our vision of sustained growth and leadership in the wire and cable industry.

FY 2025-26 advancements

- Sanand greenfield project: Primary expansion initiative with estimated capex of ₹ 1,900-2,000 crore. Phase I for LT and HT cables was commissioned in December 2025; Phase II for EHV and HT cables is expected by March 2027
- Revenue potential: The Sanand facility is expected to generate annual revenue of ₹ 6,000 crore once fully operational.
- We are advancing our long-term growth strategy through the development of future manufacturing and industrial infrastructure. Following the acquisition of 18 acres of land in Salarpur, Rajasthan, construction activities are expected to commence in FY 2026-27. Additionally, approximately 70 acres of land has been acquired in Kheda (Vadodara) for industrial development. Materiality Assessment

Addressing priorities that shape our future

Sustainability is closely linked with our ability to create long-term value for all stakeholders while navigating a dynamic business environment. As a leading manufacturer of wires and cables, we recognize that understanding the issues that matter most to our stakeholders and business is essential for delivering sustainable growth and maintaining our competitive position.

Materiality serves as a vital tool in this journey. It enables us to identify and prioritize the Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) topics that have the potential to significantly influence our business performance, stakeholder relationships, risk profile and long-term value creation.

Our Approach to Materiality

During FY 2025-26, we undertook a comprehensive review of our material topics to better understand emerging stakeholder expectations, evolving market dynamics, industry developments and sustainability-related opportunities and challenges. The exercise helped us reaffirm our strategic priorities and strengthen our focus on the issues that are most relevant to our business and stakeholders. The assessment further provided valuable insights into areas where KEI can create positive impact, enhance resilience, manage risks more effectively and contribute meaningfully to sustainability.

Determining Material Topics

We adopted a structured and stakeholder-centric approach to identify and prioritize material topics. The process was designed to ensure that diverse perspectives were incorporated and that the final outcomes reflected both business priorities and stakeholder expectations.

The assessment commenced with a review of the following areas to develop a comprehensive understanding of the sustainability issues shaping the sector. Peer organizations, including leading domestic and international players, were also studied to identify common priorities and evolving best practices.

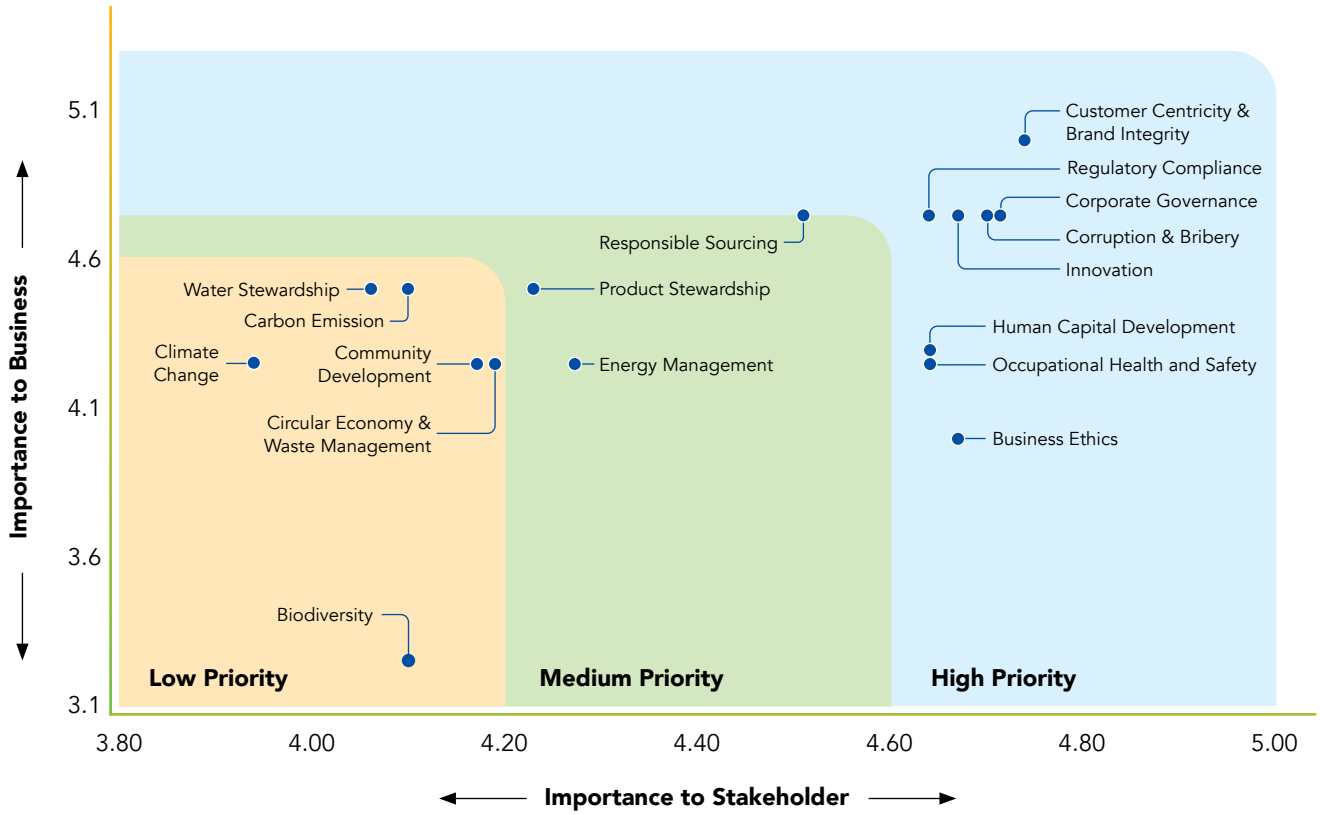

- Sustainability landscape within the wires and cables industry
- Industry trends
- Market developments
- Peer disclosures
- Emerging ESG considerations

A broad universe of environmental, social and governance topics was then developed and refined to ensure relevance to our operations, value chain and strategic ambitions.

The next phase focused on stakeholder engagement. Input was gathered from both internal and external stakeholder groups, including employees, senior leadership, customers, suppliers, investors, business partners and other relevant stakeholders. Their perspectives provided valuable insights into the sustainability issues they consider most important and those that have the greatest influence on our long-term success. The responses were carefully analyzed to understand the relative significance of each topic from both a stakeholder and business perspective. These insights formed the basis for prioritizing material topics and developing a materiality matrix that reflects the intersection between stakeholder expectations and business relevance.

Materiality Matrix

The materiality matrix represents the outcome of our materiality assessment and illustrates the relative significance of identified ESG topics from two perspectives: their importance to stakeholders and their importance to the business. The matrix provides a visual representation of the sustainability issues that are most relevant to our long-term value creation, operational resilience and stakeholder expectations. Based on the analysis of stakeholder feedback and management inputs, the identified topics were categorized into High, Medium and Low Priority areas according to their strategic significance.

The assessment indicates that Customer Centricity & Brand Integrity, Corporate Governance, Innovation, Regulatory Compliance, Human Capital Development, Occupational Health & Safety, Business Ethics and Corruption & Bribery are the most critical priorities, reflecting their strong influence on business performance, stakeholder trust and long-term value creation.

Topics such as Responsible Sourcing, Product Stewardship and Energy Management emerged as medium-priority areas, highlighting their role in supporting operational efficiency, supply chain resilience and sustainable business practices.

Environmental and social topics, including Climate Change, Carbon Emission, Water Stewardship, Circular Economy & Waste Management, Community Development and Biodiversity, were assessed as relatively lower priorities. However, we remain committed to managing these impacts responsibly as part of our broader sustainability agenda.

Management of Top Material Topics

We have identified Customer Centricity & Brand Integrity, Regulatory Compliance and Corruption & Bribery as the most critical material issues influencing our long-term value creation.

Material Topic	Target	Output Metric	Impact Metric	Rationale	Our Approach
Customer Centricity & Brand Integrity	Deliver high-quality products and solutions while strengthening customer trust and brand reputation.	Customer satisfaction levels, customer feedback, product quality performance, complaint resolution.	Enhanced customer loyalty, stronger brand equity and improved stakeholder confidence.	As a leading manufacturer of wires & cables, customer trust and product reliability are critical to sustaining our market leadership and long-term business growth.	Focusing on delivering superior product quality, maintaining robust quality assurance processes, enhancing customer engagement and continuously improving products and services to meet evolving customer requirements.
Regulatory Compliance	Ensure responsible business conduct through compliance with applicable laws, regulations and industry standards. Ethical conduct is essential for maintaining stakeholder trust, protecting corporate reputation and ensuring responsible business practices	Following a zero-tolerance approach towards bribery and corruption through strong policies, employee awareness programs, governance oversight and established mechanisms for reporting and addressing unethical behavior.

Assessment of Impacts on Stakeholders

We evaluate the effects of our operations on stakeholders through a combination of operational performance indicators, management reviews, stakeholder engagement processes and sustainability performance assessments.

We continuously monitor environmental, social and governance impacts associated with our operations and value chain. Insights from stakeholders help strengthen strategic planning, risk management and sustainability initiatives, ensuring our responsiveness to evolving stakeholder expectations while creating long-term value for customers, employees, investors, communities and society.

Building resilience through proactive risk management

Risk management is deeply embedded within our strategy, governance framework, operations and decision-making processes. As we expand our manufacturing capabilities, strengthen market leadership and broaden our global footprint, a proactive and integrated approach to risk management remains critical to sustaining growth and creating long-term stakeholder value.

Guided by a formal risk management policy, our enterprise risk management (ERM) framework enables systematic identification, assessment, mitigation and monitoring of risks across the business lifecycle. The framework provides reasonable assurance to the Board, management and stakeholders while supporting business continuity, operational resilience and strategic agility in an increasingly dynamic business environment.

RISK IDENTIFICATION AND ASSESSMENT

We follow a structured, enterprise-wide process to identify, assess and manage risks that may impact the achievement of strategic, operational and financial objectives. Risks are periodically reviewed through a combination of internal assessments, business reviews, stakeholder feedback, changes in the industrial landscape and external environmental scanning.

Each risk is evaluated based on its likelihood, velocity and potential impact on business performance, reputation, compliance obligations and long-term value creation. Depending on assessment outcomes, mitigation measures and monitoring mechanisms are implemented to manage exposures within acceptable risk levels.

Risks are classified under key categories including:

- Strategic risk
- Operational risk
- Financial & reporting risk
- Compliance risk
- IT risk

ESG RISK MANAGEMENT

We have integrated ESG considerations into our risk management framework to proactively identify and address risks and opportunities that may influence long-term business performance and stakeholder value. Our stakeholder engagement and materiality assessment process identified eight high-priority topics that are central to long-term value creation: Customer Centricity & Brand Integrity, Corporate Governance, Innovation, Regulatory Compliance, Corruption & Bribery, Human Capital Development, Business Ethics and Occupational Health & Safety. These priorities help our strategic decision-making and sustainability agenda across the organization.

By embedding these material topics into risk assessment and decision-making processes, we enhance our ability to manage regulatory, operational, reputational and sustainability-related risks while strengthening business resilience, responsible growth and long-term value creation.

EMERGING RISKS

As the external environment continues to evolve, we closely monitor emerging risks that may influence our long-term growth, operational resilience and stakeholder value creation. Through continuous assessment and proactive preparedness, we remain focused on strengthening our ability to navigate future uncertainties.

Emerging risk	Importance	Potential impact on KEI	Preparedness priorities
Climate transition and physical climate risk	High	Extreme weather may disrupt plants, suppliers and logistics, while evolving carbon, energy-efficiency and product requirements may increase compliance and investment needs. Conversely, electrification and renewable-energy infrastructure can expand demand for specialized cable solutions.	Assess location and supply-chain exposure; strengthen emergency preparedness and resource-efficiency plans; track evolving customer and regulatory requirements; expand solutions for renewable energy, EVs and resilient infrastructure.
Geopolitical fragmentation and trade barriers	High	Conflict, sanctions, tariffs, shipping disruption and localization requirements may increase input costs, extend lead times or constrain access to export markets and critical materials.	Diversify sourcing, routes and markets; monitor country and counterparty exposure; maintain contractual safeguards and appropriate inventory; strengthen local certifications and market intelligence.
Artificial intelligence and accelerated digitalization	Moderate to high	Rapid adoption may create productivity and innovation opportunities, but also introduces model, data, privacy, cyber, skills and third-party risks.	Establish responsible-use principles and approval controls; protect confidential data; test use cases within secure environments; strengthen skills, vendor due diligence and human oversight.
Skills scarcity and workforce transition	Moderate	Competition for specialized manufacturing, digital, R&D, sales and project talent may affect execution, succession and knowledge continuity as technologies and customer needs evolve.	Build succession and critical-role plans; deepen technical and leadership development; strengthen retention and employee value proposition; use workforce planning and knowledge-transfer mechanisms.

KEY INITIATIVES FOR THE YEAR

Capital investments

We continued to prioritize capex for scale and future-readiness. The Sanand greenfield project remains central to this strategy. Phase I of the Sanand facility, covering LT and HT cables, commenced commercial production in December 2025. Phase II, covering EHV cables and HT Cables, is expected to be commissioned by March 2027. Total planned future capex stood at ₹ 600-700 crore every year for incremental capacity. Once fully commissioned, Sanand's revenue potential is ₹ 6,000 crore, with LT, HT & EHV cables production capability.

₹ 600-700 crore annually

Capex discipline maintained at 20% topline growth

Debt reduction and capital raising

We strengthened liquidity and equity position through a ₹ 2,000 crore Qualified Institutional Placement in November 2024. Of this, ₹ 1,450 crore is earmarked for Sanand, ₹ 276 crore toward repayment of loans and ₹ 274 crore for general corporate purposes/QIP Issue Expenses. We remain net cash positive and aim to fund future capex through internal accruals wherever possible. No additional debt is planned to complete the Sanand capital expenditure program.

Zero net debt

Maintaining high liquidity and financial resilience

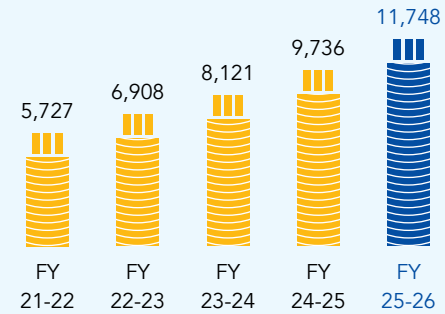

Margin enhancement

Our shift from lower-margin and higher working capital EPC activity to higher-margin retail and export portfolios continues. With better product mix, working capital cycles improving and operational efficiencies strengthening, we expect EBITDA to stabilize between 11%-12% in medium term.

Sustainability measures

Sustainability considerations are embedded in the way we build and operate our manufacturing infrastructure, with a clear focus on efficiency, resilience and long-term value. Equipment upgrades enhance operational efficiency, reduce energy consumption and lower maintenance needs. Integrating renewable energy into our power mix supports energy security and cost stability, while transitions to cleaner fuels contribute to lower emissions. Advanced water treatment systems ensure responsible use and recycling of water across operations, strengthening our Zero Liquid Discharge commitment. These measures help minimize environmental impact, improve asset productivity and support future-ready operations.

Manufacturing Excellence and Resilience

Manufacturing excellence is driven through a combination of advanced technology, quality assurance systems, operational discipline and continuous improvement initiatives. Our manufacturing facilities operate under globally recognized quality, environmental and occupational health and safety standards, ensuring consistent product performance and operational reliability.

We continue to strengthen manufacturing resilience through diversified production locations, integrated supply-chain capabilities, robust quality processes and investments in future-ready infrastructure. This approach enables KEI to respond effectively to evolving customer needs, changing market conditions and emerging opportunities while maintaining high standards of efficiency, safety and reliability.

Supply Chain Sustainability

We consider sustainable supply chain as an essential factor for creating long-term value, ensuring operational resilience and meeting evolving stakeholder expectations. As a leading manufacturer of wires and cables, we work closely with suppliers to promote responsible business practices, uphold ethical standards and strengthen environmental and social performance across our value chain. Our approach to supply chain sustainability goes beyond quality and cost considerations, incorporating governance, compliance, risk management and ESG performance into supplier engagement and evaluation processes.

Supplier Code of Conduct

Our Supplier Code of Conduct establishes clear expectations for suppliers regarding ethical business practices, regulatory compliance, human rights, labor standards, occupational health and safety, environmental stewardship and anti-corruption. The Code applies to suppliers, contractors, service providers and business partners across the value chain and serves as the foundation of our responsible procurement framework. Through these requirements, we seek to ensure that our business relationships are aligned with our values of integrity, accountability and sustainable growth.

The Supplier Code promotes responsible sourcing practices and encourages suppliers to establish management systems that support ethical conduct, safe working conditions, environmental responsibility and business continuity. We actively engage with suppliers to drive awareness, accountability and continuous improvement in these areas.

ESG Assessment and Supplier Due Diligence

To strengthen supply chain resilience and sustainable procurement practices, we have integrated ESG considerations into our supplier assessment process. During FY 2025-26, we conducted structured assessments of strategic and high-spend suppliers across key raw material categories, including copper, aluminum, polymers, steel and other critical inputs. The assessment framework covered environmental management, labor and human rights practices, occupational health and safety, ethical business conduct, regulatory compliance, operational capability and business continuity management.

During FY 2025-26, we assessed suppliers representing 89.20% of total procurement spend, demonstrating significant coverage of our upstream value chain and reinforcing our commitment to responsible sourcing and supply chain transparency.

Strengthening Supply Chain Resilience

We view supplier sustainability as a continuous journey and remain committed to building a resilient, transparent and future-ready supply chain. Through regular supplier evaluations, ongoing engagement and progressive integration of ESG considerations into procurement decisions, we seek to mitigate supply chain risks, enhance responsible sourcing practices and foster long-term partnerships that create shared value. As sustainability expectations continue to evolve, we will further strengthen supplier assessment mechanisms, ESG performance monitoring and value chain collaboration to support responsible growth and sustainable manufacturing excellence.

Advancing a Strong Safety Culture

Safety is embedded into the way we operate and forms an integral part of our commitment to responsible business practices. We have adopted and implemented ISO 45001:2018 Occupational Health and Safety Management System, providing a structured framework to protect employees, workers, contractors and visitors while promoting a culture of prevention and continuous improvement.

Our approach extends beyond regulatory compliance and focuses on proactively identifying, assessing and mitigating risks before incidents occur. We systematically conduct Hazard Identification and Risk Assessment (HIRA) for both routine and non-routine activities and actively involve shop-floor employees in identifying workplace hazards and recommending preventive measures. This participative approach not only strengthens risk management but also increases employee ownership of safety outcomes.

We maintain a robust Permit-to-Work system, conduct regular safety inspections and undertake periodic internal and external audits to assess compliance with safety standards and identify opportunities for improvement. Audit findings are reviewed systematically, and corrective and preventive actions are implemented, with key learnings shared in a timely manner. Furthermore, comprehensive emergency preparedness and response plans are established across facilities to ensure readiness for any unforeseen situations.

Our employees are empowered to play an active role in workplace safety. Well-defined procedures enable employees and workers to report unsafe conditions, near misses and hazards and to remove themselves from situations that may pose an imminent risk to their health or safety without fear of reprisal. This reinforces a culture of transparency, accountability and shared responsibility.

To strengthen safety awareness across all locations, we regularly conduct safety campaigns, toolbox talks, internal and external training programs, fire drills, hands-on firefighting exercises and shop-floor safety quizzes. Visual safety management systems, including safety instructions, hazard communication boards, posters, placards and signage, have been significantly enhanced across operational sites to improve awareness and reinforce safe behaviors.

Root Cause Analysis is systematically conducted for all safety-related incidents and observations, helping us to identify underlying causes and implement sustainable corrective actions. Safety performance is continuously reviewed by Site and Plant Heads, with key learnings shared across locations to ensure consistency and replication of best practices throughout the organization.

Additionally, plant-specific Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) training modules and updated PPE matrices have been deployed to strengthen compliance and employee protection. Through these initiatives, we continue to foster a proactive safety culture aligned with international best practices and driven by the objective of achieving zero harm.

Safeguarding Employee Health and Well-being

Employee health and well-being are fundamental to organizational success and sustainable growth. Thus, we adopted a preventive and risk-based approach towards occupational health management through our ISO 45001:2018-certified Occupational Health and Safety Management System, which integrates occupational health considerations into day-to-day operations. Our health management framework focuses on identifying workplace health hazards, evaluating associated risks and implementing appropriate controls to prevent occupational illnesses.

Employee awareness plays a central role in our occupational health program. Regular training sessions and awareness initiatives are conducted to educate employees and workers on workplace hazards, safe work practices, emergency preparedness, health-related risks and preventive measures. Furthermore, employees and eligible workers have access to non-occupational medical facilities and healthcare services, and are covered under our health insurance program. These initiatives are supplemented by periodic internal and external audits, which help verify compliance with established occupational health and safety standards and drive continual improvement.

We also promote workforce participation through established communication, consultation and feedback mechanisms, enabling employees to raise concerns related to workplace health and safety and contribute to the development of safer work environments. Regular reviews and performance evaluations ensure that occupational health risks remain effectively managed and that improvement opportunities are acted upon promptly.

It's dynamic, collaborative and values-led culture encourages integrity, respect, teamwork, initiative and continuous improvement while retaining a strong people-first approach. Leadership openness and approachability coupled with learning opportunities have made my journey professionally enriching and personally fulfilling. I remain committed to strengthening people practices, nurturing talent and building an inclusive, high-performing and future-ready workplace aligned with KEI's long-term growth, innovation and excellence.

Dilip Kumar Barnwal

Senior Vice President – Operations

I joined KEI in 1994 as Assistant Manager – Marketing, and today serve as Senior Vice President – Operations. Over the years, I have worked across Marketing, Technical Services, PPC and Production, gaining a holistic understanding of the business. I also pursued entrepreneurship before rejoining KEI in 2005, which broadened my perspective on decision-making and business operations. A defining milestone has been leading the Silvassa facility as it grew from less than ₹ 100 crore in annual turnover to approximately ₹ 6,000 crore today.

KEI's trust, empowerment, merit-based culture and continuous development have enabled me to take ownership, lead large-scale growth initiatives and expand my capabilities. Our teamwork, integrity and mutual respect have made my association deeply fulfilling. Many personal milestones, including marriage and becoming a father, also unfolded during this journey. Growing alongside KEI for over three decades remains a matter of immense pride.

Pramoda Shetty

Senior General Manager – Marketing

My journey at KEI reflects continuous progress and empowerment. I joined in 2003 as Senior Executive - Sales & Marketing and became Senior General Manager - Marketing in 2024, while KEI grew from below ₹ 100 crore to about ₹ 12,000 crore turnover. I have worked across Execution & Planning, Commercial, Business Development, domestic institutional, distribution, retail and exports, handling leading customers and rate contracts across India, Australia, Singapore, the Philippines and Mauritius.

Management's support enabled me to work with core teams at EY, Renoir, BCG and 10X, train 300+ employees in personality development, and attend Shiv Khera's Hi-Impact Leadership Program. KEI's trusting, inclusive and gender-equal culture, coupled with its flexibility for women, has been instrumental in my growth. From being featured in Employee Voice and travelling internationally for business to representing KEI at Pro Kabaddi, these experiences will continue to shape my contribution towards KEI's ₹ 25,000 crore+ vision for FY 2029-30.

Ravi Sharma

Vice President - Marketing

I joined KEI on January 1, 2022 to strengthen the House Wire distribution network. With pan-India teams largely in place, my focus was on restructuring the go-to-market model, strengthening marketing policies and filling product gaps. In just over four years, effective team execution helped multiply turnover nearly four times. A major milestone was introducing Conflame Green+, which filled an important portfolio gap, strengthened the brand and contributed more than 20% of turnover in my business area.

KEI has given me complete empowerment to drive the business within its governance framework, backed by strong management trust. Its transparent, flat culture allows employees to approach managers and senior leadership freely, enabling faster decisions and execution. This trust has also helped me learn and contribute across functions. Being part of the successful launch and growth of Conflame Green+ remains my most memorable experience at KEI.

We equip channel partners with the tools and training they need to thrive, delivering growth that is rooted in shared success. Our community programs address tangible needs, from health to livelihoods, creating lasting social value and strengthening our role as a responsible business.

COMMITMENT TO SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

We continue to uplift electricians across India through the Jyoti Series. After addressing safety and security in 2024 through Suraksha Jyoti, this year's initiative, Samriddhi Jyoti, focused on financial empowerment. The program aims to equip electricians with practical financial knowledge, disciplined savings habits and access to government-backed insurance schemes, enabling them to build resilience, stability and prosperity for themselves and their families. The initiative reflects our role as a connector of possibilities, going beyond wires and cables to empower the hands that keep India illuminated.

Financial empowerment drive

We are helping electricians strengthen everyday money management through training on income tracking, expense discipline, smart savings habits and planning for lean months. The initiative also promotes savings literacy through recurring deposits, post-office savings and UPI or digital wallets. We are also creating awareness and facilitating enrolment under the Pradhan Mantri Suraksha Bima Yojana, which provides ₹ 2 lakh risk cover at an annual premium of ₹ 20.

Workshops in tier 2 and tier 3 towns

We conduct interactive workshops in simple, local languages to improve understanding and participation. In partnership with banks and NBFCs, we facilitate instant enrolments, demonstrations and practical financial guidance. Participants completing the sessions receive certification and recognition through a 'Samriddhi Badge', along with takeaway kits comprising a badge, diary and pouch.

SIGNIFICANT ATTRIBUTES

- Strengthening long-term relationships with dealers, distributors and retail partners through product quality, service support and shared business growth
- Supporting electricians through initiatives such as Samriddhi Jyoti, focused on financial literacy, insurance awareness, savings habits, recognition and community-level engagement

Community connect

We extend the program into communities through street plays, festive markets and awareness drives under the theme "Right Wiring, Right Future". Storytelling, interactive quizzes and electrician recognition ceremonies make financial literacy more accessible, engaging and relevant to everyday life.

Digital amplification

We amplify the initiative through short reels and social media posts featuring electrician success stories around savings, insurance and empowerment. Electricians who complete workshops and enrolments are recognized on KEI's digital platforms, helping celebrate their progress and inspire wider participation.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT AND SOCIAL IMPACT

Our CSR programs are guided by continuous stakeholder engagement and community participation. We regularly engage with beneficiaries, local leaders, village committees, community representatives, educational institutions, healthcare facilities and implementation partners to understand local needs and design interventions that create measurable outcomes. Community feedback, beneficiary surveys, field assessments and independent impact evaluations help us assess effectiveness and identify opportunities for improvement.

Advancing inclusive education

Education continues to be a key pillar of KEI's community investment strategy. Through our partnership with Bharat Lok Shiksha Parishad (BLSP), we supported the Ekal Vidyalaya initiative aimed at improving access to foundational education in underserved rural and tribal communities. The initiative supported Ekal Vidyalayas across Uttar Pradesh and Himachal Pradesh, reaching children from marginalized communities. The program improved access to literacy, numeracy, value-based education, health awareness and life skills while promoting community ownership through Gram Samitis. Notably, the program achieved balanced gender participation, with girls representing more than 50% of total beneficiaries.

Advancing

our environmental responsibility

For us, business growth is closely connected with the way we manage our impact on the environment. As we expand our manufacturing capabilities and serve a wider range of infrastructure, industrial and consumer applications, we continue to strengthen environmental performance across our operations and value chain. Our natural capital approach brings together responsible manufacturing, climate action, resource efficiency, circularity, product stewardship and responsible sourcing.

MATERIAL TOPICS IMPACTED

UN SDGs IMPACTED

During the year, we continued to strengthen carbon accounting, expand renewable energy adoption, improve water circularity, optimize material and packaging consumption and enhance waste management practices. We are also extending environmental responsibility beyond our factory gates through life-cycle assessment, product design, supplier ESG engagement and end-of-life considerations. These efforts are supported by stronger environmental governance, measurable targets and greater transparency across the organization.

OUR APPROACH

Our approach to natural capital is guided by the belief that responsible growth should reduce environmental impact while strengthening operational resilience. We are embedding environmental considerations across our manufacturing ecosystem through cleaner energy, efficient resource use, responsible water management, material circularity, disciplined environmental controls and life-cycle thinking.

Our focus extends across energy and emissions, water, metals and polymers, waste, packaging, product design, transportation, supply-chain practices and end-of-life responsibility. Monitoring, operational controls and improvement programs help us make environmental performance increasingly measurable and actionable, while our evolving climate and nature-related frameworks support longer-term resilience.

GOVERNANCE AND ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT

Environmental stewardship forms part of our governance and operating framework rather than being managed solely as a compliance requirement. The Board provides oversight of sustainability performance, supported by the CSR & ESG Committee, management teams and plant-level functions responsible for implementation.

The Board of Directors of the Company is the highest authority responsible for implementation and oversight of our responsible business policies. Policy performance and statutory compliance are reviewed periodically, while environmental controls are implemented through management systems, operating procedures, audits and corrective-action processes.

Our ESG Policy, EHS Policy, Supplier Code of Conduct and related Board-approved policies establish expectations around pollution prevention, resource efficiency, climate action, responsible sourcing, compliance and continuous improvement. These expectations progressively extend into our value chain. ISO 14001:2015 provides an operating framework for identifying environmental aspects and impacts, establishing controls, monitoring performance and implementing corrective actions.

Governance layer	Primary role	Evidence and review
Board of Directors	Oversight of sustainability in business operations	Annual review of policy performance and compliance
CSR & ESG Committee	Decision-making on sustainability-related matters	Performance, risks, priorities and programs
Manufacturing Unit leadership	Implementation of energy, water, emissions and waste controls	Operational reviews, compliance checks and corrective actions
ESG and EHS teams	Standards, data, targets and cross-functional coordination	KPI monitoring, audits and management reporting
Procurement, R&D and commercial teams	Responsible sourcing and life-cycle product improvements	Supplier assessments, LCA insights, customer and vendor engagement

ADVANCING GREEN MANUFACTURING THROUGH GREENCO

We are undertaking a GreenCo assessment of our Bhiwadi Manufacturing Unit to benchmark performance across energy, water, greenhouse gas emissions, waste, material conservation, green supply chain, product stewardship, life-cycle considerations and innovation.

The assessment is expected to support the development of an integrated environmental improvement roadmap for the Bhiwadi unit. The learnings and good practices identified through this initiative will be evaluated for potential replication across our other manufacturing units, supporting greater consistency and continuous improvement in environmental performance.

CLIMATE ACTION AND DECARBONIZATION

Climate change and carbon emissions are material considerations for our operations and value chain. Our carbon-management approach integrates greenhouse gas inventorization, performance monitoring, target setting, renewable energy, energy efficiency, cleaner fuels, process optimization, product life-cycle analysis and supplier engagement.

We monitor Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions and evaluate emissions intensity to identify operational hotspots and prioritize improvement measures. For the near term, we have committed to reducing combined Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions intensity by 5% by FY 2026-27.

We have made significant progress towards this goal, achieving a 9.19% reduction in combined Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions intensity in FY 2025-26 compared with the baseline year, thereby surpassing our near-term reduction target ahead of schedule.

We are working on environmental improvement measures through:

- Higher renewable electricity procurement and generation
- Energy-efficiency improvements
- Transition from higher-carbon liquid fuels to cleaner alternatives
- Electrification of material-handling equipment
- Process optimization and heat-loss reduction
- High-efficiency motors and equipment
- Product-level LCA hotspot analysis
- Greater use of recycled and lower-impact raw materials
- Deeper engagement with suppliers on emissions reduction

MANAGING CLIMATE-RELATED RISK

Climate change can create physical and transition risks across manufacturing infrastructure, energy systems, supply chains and markets. We plan to undertake a structured assessment of climate-related physical and transition risks across our manufacturing facilities in the upcoming reporting cycle.

The assessment will help us identify material exposures, strengthen climate-resilience planning and progressively incorporate climate considerations into operational continuity, procurement and capital-allocation decisions.

ENERGY MANAGEMENT

Reliable energy is essential to cable manufacturing, while energy efficiency has a direct bearing on operating costs and carbon emissions. Our approach combines measurement, operating discipline, equipment efficiency, process optimization, cleaner fuels and renewable electricity.

We monitor energy consumption through a combination of online, digital and manual systems. Equipment-level monitoring, variance analysis, energy audits, corrective actions and management dashboards help operating teams identify inefficiencies. We intend to progressively expand IoT-enabled monitoring to improve real-time visibility and accountability across energy-intensive equipment.

FY 2025-26 energy profile

Parameters	FY 2025-26
Renewable electricity	15,339.19 GJ
Non-renewable energy	5,62,704.53 GJ
Total energy consumed	5,78,043.72 GJ
Energy intensity per revenue	4.92 GJ/million ₹
PPP-adjusted energy intensity	100.08 GJ/million $
Physical intensity	0.33 GJ/km of wire & cable

Advancing the shift to cleaner energy

We are steadily increasing the use of cleaner energy across our manufacturing operations. Rooftop solar installations are already supporting our plants, while a captive solar-power arrangement is being progressed for the Bhiwadi, Chopanki and Pathredi facilities to further reduce dependence on grid electricity. We have also transitioned boilers from diesel and furnace oil to natural gas, helping reduce reliance on higher-carbon liquid fuels and local air emissions. Bio-based fuels and other cleaner alternatives continue to be evaluated based on their technical and commercial feasibility.

Alongside renewable energy adoption, we are improving energy efficiency across our operations through LED lighting, high-efficiency motors and process optimization. Our roadmap includes replacing IE1 and IE2 motors with IE3 motors, upgrading the CCV line from DC to AC systems and exploring rooftop and street solar systems for electric forklift charging. These initiatives support our broader effort to lower the energy intensity of production and progressively strengthen the efficiency of our manufacturing footprint.

GHG EMISSIONS MANAGEMENT

We recognize climate change and carbon emissions as material business risks. Our emissions management approach integrates operational efficiency, renewable energy, cleaner fuels, product life-cycle analysis and value-chain engagement. We measure Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions and have set a near-term target to reduce combined Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions intensity by 5% by FY 2026-27.

During FY 2025-26, we continued to advance our climate action agenda through renewable energy deployment, energy-efficiency measures and cleaner manufacturing practices. We reduced Scope 1 emissions by 3.44% and improved combined Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions intensity by 9.19%, reinforcing our commitment to resource-efficient growth.

GHG indicator	FY 2025-26
Scope 1 Emissions	7,181.11 tCO_2e
Scope 2 Emissions	87,903.84 tCO_2e
Scope 1 + 2 Emissions	95,084.95 tCO_2e
GHG Intensity per revenue	0.81 tCO_2e/million ₹
GHG PPP-adjusted intensity	16.46 tCO_2e/million $

Decarbonization Levers

We are focused on advancing our decarbonization efforts by scaling renewable electricity through rooftop and captive solar arrangements and continuing the transition from higher-carbon liquid fuels to cleaner alternatives such as natural gas, while assessing the potential of sustainable bio-based fuels. We also plan to implement recommendations arising from energy audits and progressively adopt high-efficiency equipment to improve energy performance across our operations.

To better understand and address emissions across the product life cycle, we will use Life-Cycle Assessment (LCA) hotspot analysis to identify key emission sources across raw materials and manufacturing processes. We also plan to strengthen supplier engagement through carbon-footprint assessments and develop a supply-chain decarbonization plan by March 2028, supporting a more resilient and lower-carbon value chain.

Scope 3 Emissions

During FY 2025-26, we strengthened our Scope 3 greenhouse gas accounting framework by expanding the coverage and granularity of emissions data across our value chain. Building on previous assessments, we enhanced data collection processes and improved visibility into upstream and downstream emission sources, enabling a more comprehensive evaluation of value-chain impacts.

The assessment covered a broader range of Scope 3 categories, including purchased goods and services, capital goods, fuel- and energy-related activities, transportation and distribution, waste generated in operations, business travel, employee commuting, leased assets and downstream logistics. The enhanced methodology and improved data availability resulted in a more robust and representative Scope 3 inventory, reflecting our continued commitment to transparency and continuous improvement in climate-related disclosures.

The exercise also helped us identify key emission hotspots across the value chain, particularly in transportation and distribution, fuel- and energy-related activities, employee commuting and the procurement of raw materials. These insights will support our future decarbonization initiatives.

Description	FY 2025-26 (in $MTCO_2e$)	FY 2024-25 (in $MTCO_2e$)
Scope 3 Emissions	74,916.05	55,308.87

We assessed Scope 3 greenhouse gas emissions across nine material value chain categories 1-9, namely Purchased Goods and Services, Capital Goods, Fuel and Energy-Related Activities, Upstream Transportation and Distribution, Waste Generated in Operations, Business Travel, Employee Commuting, Upstream Leased Assets, and Downstream Transportation and Distribution. Total Scope 3 emissions were 74,916.05 tCO_2e in FY 2025-26, compared with 55,308.87 tCO_2e in FY 2024-25. We will continue to strengthen value chain engagement and emissions management to support better environmental performance.

Going forward, we aim to further strengthen supplier engagement, improve primary data collection and refine calculation methodologies to enhance the accuracy, completeness and reliability of Scope 3 emissions reporting.

Internal Carbon Pricing and Transition Risk Exposure

As part of our climate risk approach, we have assessed our exposure to rising carbon costs by applying a shadow carbon price, an internal, illustrative cost assigned to each tonne of CO_2e emitted, used only for planning purposes with no actual payment involved, to its Scope 1 and 2 emissions. This price is based on the Network for Greening the Financial System (NGFS) REMIND MAgPIE model under the Below 2°C scenario for India, a widely used climate scenario framework published by central banks and regulators globally.

The Below 2°C scenario was chosen because it reflects an orderly, gradual policy path aligned with global climate goals, making it a reasonable and credible basis for planning. Under this scenario, the carbon price for India is projected to rise from about $5.9 per tonne of CO_2e in 2025 to $12.9 by 2030 and $26.3 by 2035, as climate policy is expected to tighten over time.

Applying this rising price to KEI's FY 2025-26 Scope I and II emissions of 95,084.95 tonnes of CO_2e, kept constant to show the effect of price alone, gives an estimated cost exposure of ₹ 10.80 crore (0.78% of KEI's FY 2025-26 EBITDA of ₹ 1,387.6 crore) by 2030, rising to ₹ 22.12 crore (1.59% of EBITDA) by 2035. Estimated near term exposure is ₹ 6.13 crore in 2026 and ₹ 8.47 crore in 2028.

2026*	7.3	6.13	0.44%
2028*	10.1	8.47	0.61%
2030	12.9	10.80	0.78%
2035	26.3	22.12	1.59%

*Interpolated between the NGFS REMIND MAgPIE 2025 and 2030 data points for the Below 2°C scenario, India region.

This analysis is the starting point for KEI's internal carbon pricing approach, which will help guide future decisions on capital spending and sourcing. Since KEI's use of copper and aluminum carries a much larger carbon footprint than its own operations, this Scope 1 and 2 based estimate is a conservative first step. Coverage will be expanded to include these supply chain emissions as more data becomes available.

WATER STEWARDSHIP AND CIRCULAR WATER USE

Water is an important operational resource across cooling, process applications and domestic requirements. Our approach combines source monitoring, water balances, metering, efficiency improvements, rainwater harvesting, wastewater treatment and reuse.

All our manufacturing units follow a zero-discharge approach. Effluent Treatment Plants treat process wastewater and Sewage Treatment Plants treat domestic wastewater. Treated water is reused within operations and for appropriate non-potable applications, reducing freshwater dependence and supporting greater water circularity.

At our Bhiwadi plant, the existing STP has been upgraded with NP removal, Pure COD, UF and recycle RO systems. Treated and recycled water is used in process machines and boilers, helping lower groundwater requirements.

Other water-efficiency projects include a hot-water generator at the SS Plant and temperature-control measures at cooling towers across SP-919, SP-920 and SP-922. These interventions are intended to reduce water withdrawal while improving process efficiency.

Rainwater harvesting systems operate across our units to support groundwater recharge and strengthen long-term water resilience.

Strengthening water resilience

We intend to deepen our water-stewardship framework through site-level assessment of water-related risks using recognized basin-risk tools. Facilities in water-stressed areas will receive particular attention while setting future withdrawal and water-intensity targets.

Our priorities

- Increasing reuse of treated water;
- Strengthening source-level metering and water balances;
- Improving disclosure of recycled and reused water;
- Identifying water-intensive processes and improvement opportunities;
- Strengthening engagement where operations intersect with community or ecosystem water requirements; and
- Progressively enhancing assurance over material water indicators

Water indicator	FY 2025-26	FY 2024-25

We achieved a 23.81% improvement in water intensity compared with FY 2024-25, reflecting continued progress in enhancing water-use efficiency and strengthening resource productivity across our operations.

MATERIAL EFFICIENCY, WASTE MANAGEMENT AND CIRCULARITY

Material efficiency is particularly important in cable manufacturing because copper, aluminum, polymers, steel and packaging materials represent significant resource inputs.

We apply the waste hierarchy by seeking to prevent waste at source, segregating materials, recovering value through reuse and recycling and routing residual or regulated waste to authorized partners. Our waste-management procedures cover collection, segregation, internal transportation and designated storage. Hazardous waste is maintained in dedicated containment areas with appropriate secondary containment.

ERP-generated inward and outward records support the tracking of material movement. Daily reporting and variance analysis help identify deviations and initiate corrective actions.

Reducing waste at source

We have developed action plans to reduce scrap generation across PVC compounds, XLPE compounds, copper and aluminum. We are also working to reduce consumption of hand gloves, lubricants and transmission belts through improved material selection, preventive maintenance and greater use of electric material-handling equipment.

Packaging is another focus area. We continue to reduce plastic use and optimize packaging consumption to lower material intensity across our product-delivery ecosystem.

Waste Categories	FY 2025-26 (MT)
Plastic waste	779.41
E-waste	6.04
Biomedical waste	0.00089
Battery waste	32.70
Other hazardous waste	67.27
Other non-hazardous waste	18,296.71
Total waste generated	19,182.13
Recycled	12,137.21
Reused	6,938.91

Strengthening circular material flows

Copper and aluminum scrap retain significant recovery value and can re-enter metallurgical supply chains. We maximize recovery of conductor and cable scrap, reuse technically suitable production material and route non-reusable material to authorized recyclers.

Our next phase of circularity will focus on better traceability beyond first-stage recyclers, increased use of recycled materials, stronger recovery metrics and take-back initiatives with institutional customers and authorized recyclers.

Life-cycle insights and design-for-recycling principles will progressively help us improve material separability, reduce materials of concern and promote more efficient resource use across the product lifecycle.

PRODUCT STEWARDSHIP AND LIFE-CYCLE RESPONSIBILITY

Our responsibility for environmental performance extends beyond manufacturing to the full life of our products.

Product stewardship begins with quality and safety and extends to material selection, resource efficiency, product use, customer education and end-of-life management. Product development increasingly incorporates design for environment principles, durability, longevity, dematerialization and recyclability.

RoHS and REACH-related requirements support efforts to reduce restricted substances and improve environmental and product-safety performance. R&D initiatives focus on conductor optimization, insulation efficiency, reduced material intensity and product designs that support longer service life and easier material recovery.

Use-phase performance is important because reduced electrical losses, reliability and product longevity can lower replacement frequency and associated resource demand. Fire-retardant and safety-oriented cable designs also contribute to safer product use.

We communicate product certifications, environmental attributes and safe-use guidance through product labels, cable packets and drums, dealer and vendor meets, technical support and digital channels. Training for electricians, contractors, distributors, wiremen and supervisors covers safe handling, cable laying and storage, energy-efficient solutions and the benefits of green products. A centralized customer care system captures queries, complaints and suggestions and provides feedback for quality and service improvement.

Cables typically have a service life of 20 to 30 years and contain recoverable copper, aluminum, steel and polymers. We recover manufacturing scrap, maximize internal reuse where technically feasible and work with authorized recyclers for plastics, e-waste and other regulated waste streams. We are also strengthening EPR-readiness, exploring take-back and recycling partnerships and promoting environmentally compliant handling of insulation and other residual materials.

Our GreenPro-certified Conflame Green+ HR FR-LSH LF product demonstrates progress towards externally verified green product attributes.

Life-Cycle Assessment

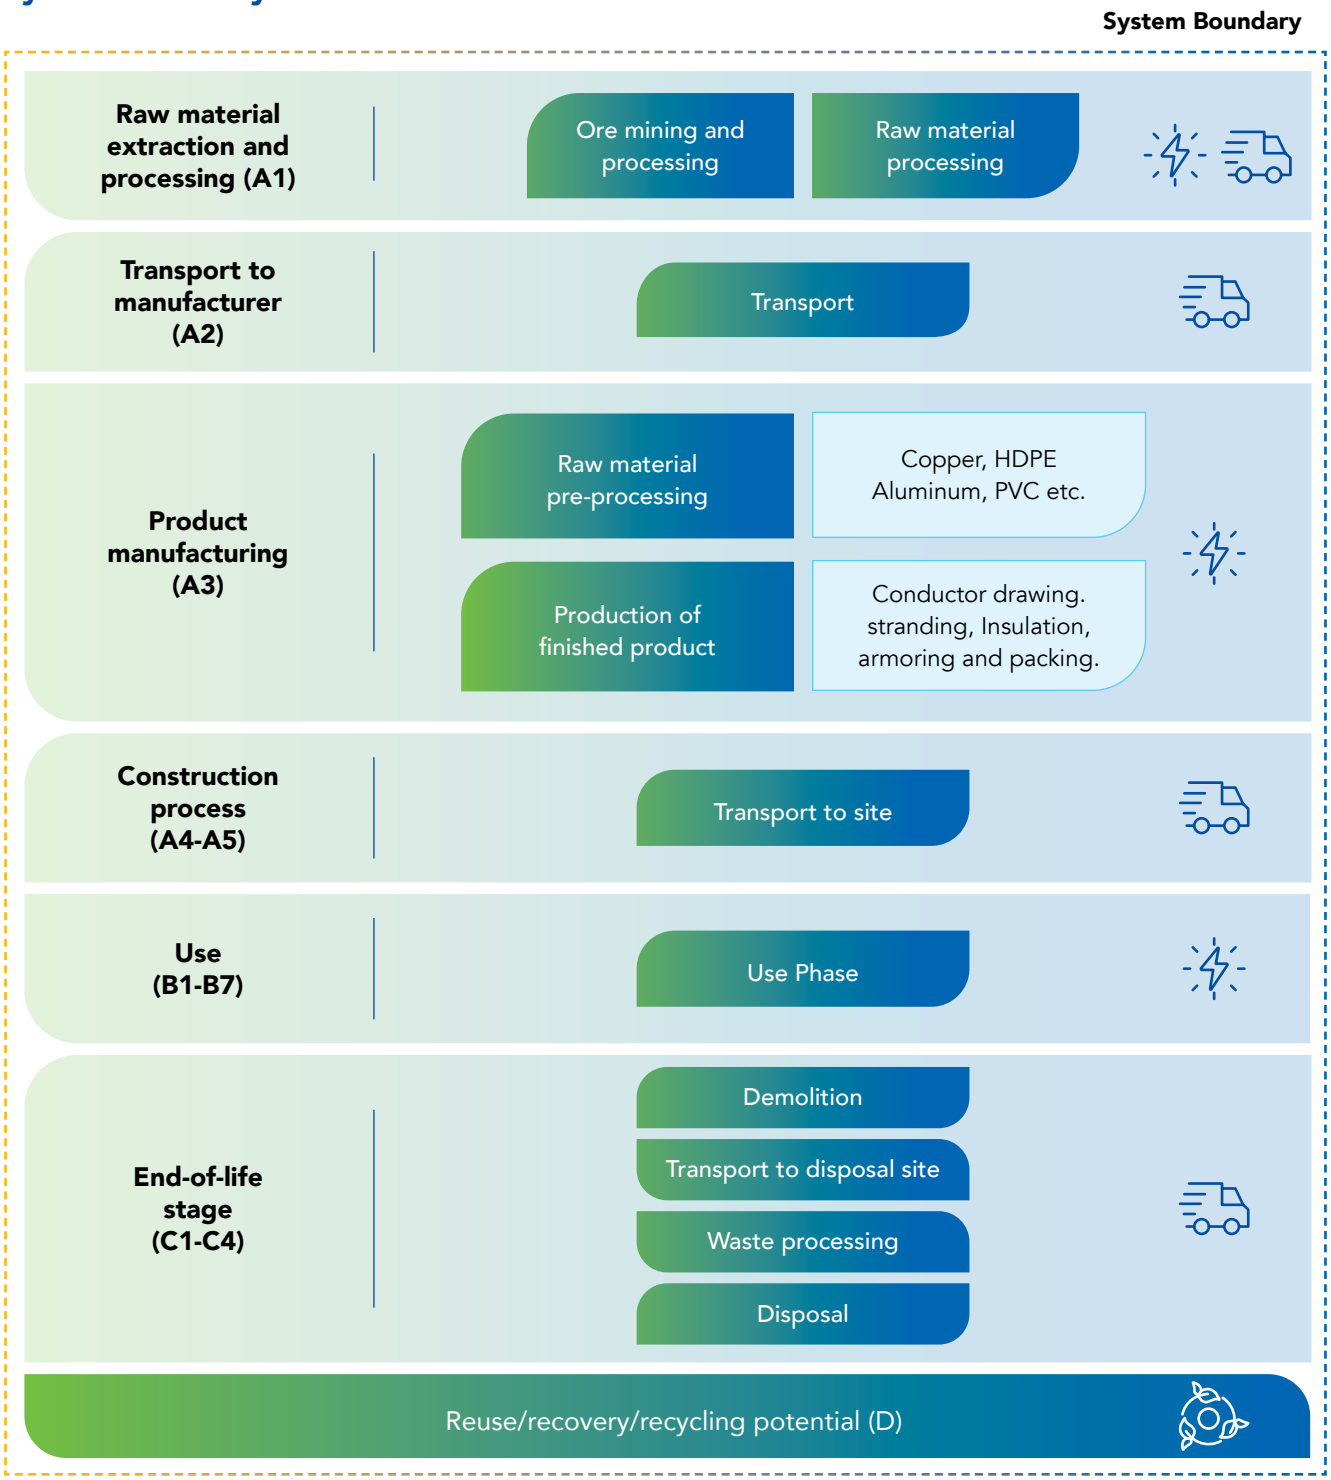

We are embedding life cycle thinking into product strategy to better understand environmental impacts beyond the factory gate. The assessments consider relevant stages including raw-material extraction, manufacturing at KEI, use and disposal.

During FY 2025-26, we conducted 11 Life-Cycle Assessment studies for key high-sales products through Greenex Environmental. The studies follow ISO 14040:2006 principles and collectively cover approximately 90% of our manufacturing products by sale.

System Boundary Pictorial Presentation

Environmental Performance Across the Product Life Cycle

The A1-A3 stage (raw material extraction, processing and manufacturing) is the dominant contributor to environmental impacts across all major categories, including climate change, acidification, eutrophication, freshwater ecotoxicity, resource use and water consumption. The impacts are primarily driven by the production of key raw materials such as copper, lead, steel, polymers and other cable constituents, while transportation, installation and end-of-life stages contribute comparatively less. The studies indicate that improving material efficiency, increasing recycled or low-carbon material content, enhancing energy efficiency, expanding renewable electricity use and optimizing resource consumption in manufacturing can significantly reduce the overall environmental footprint of cable production.

Moving from measurement to action

The value of LCA lies in identifying environmental hotspots and translating those findings into product-specific action. We are reviewing the completed assessments to identify reduction opportunities across raw materials, manufacturing, sourcing, product design, logistics and end-of-life management. Potential interventions include responsible sourcing of metals and polymers, increased recycled material, greater renewable-energy use, process and water efficiency, lower-carbon logistics, conductor and insulation optimization and designs that enable improved recovery and recycling.

Our longer-term roadmap includes expanding LCA coverage, embedding findings into product design and procurement, extending verified green-product credentials and developing third-party verified Environmental Product Declarations for selected products.

Customer engagement and safe product use

We engage customers, dealers, vendors, electricians, contractors, distributors, wiremen and supervisors through product communication, technical support, training and awareness programs.

Product labels, cable packets and drums, dealer and vendor meets and digital channels communicate certifications, environmental attributes and safe-use guidance. Training programs cover cable handling, laying and storage, safe installation practices, energy-efficient solutions and green-product benefits.

Our centralized customer-care system also captures customer queries, complaints and suggestions, providing feedback that supports product quality and service improvement.

End-of-life responsibility

Cables typically have long service lives and contain recoverable materials such as copper, aluminum, steel and polymers. We recover manufacturing scrap, maximize internal reuse where technically possible and work with authorized recyclers for plastics, e-waste and other regulated waste streams.

We are strengthening readiness for Extended Producer Responsibility requirements and responsible disposal practices. Our roadmap includes registration of the manufacturing unit under the applicable EPR framework in accordance with CPCB guidelines and subsequent compliance with prescribed targets.

We also intend to develop take-back and recycling programs progressively, supported by institutional customers and authorized recycling partners. These initiatives can improve material recovery, reduce landfill impact and strengthen circularity across the full product lifecycle.

SUSTAINABLE SUPPLY CHAIN

Environmental performance increasingly depends on actions across the value chain. Our Supplier Code of Conduct establishes expectations relating to environmental stewardship, occupational health and safety, human rights, labor standards, ethics, anti-corruption and regulatory compliance. Suppliers are encouraged to operate effective environmental-management systems, use resources efficiently, adopt cleaner technologies, reduce greenhouse gas emissions and waste and comply with applicable environmental requirements.

Procurement decisions increasingly consider governance, compliance, risk and ESG performance alongside quality, delivery and cost.

Our supplier-selection criteria consider parameters such as:

- ISO 9001:2015 certification
- Environmental management systems such as ISO 14001:2015 or equivalent
- Use of recycled or lower-impact materials
- Packaging and logistics sustainability
- Resource and energy efficiency
- Willingness to engage with our green-procurement requirements

ESG assessment and due diligence

During FY 2025-26, we conducted structured assessments of strategic and high-spend suppliers across copper, aluminum, polymers, steel and other critical inputs. The framework covered environmental management, labor and human rights, health and safety, ethical conduct, regulatory compliance, operational capability and business continuity.

Suppliers representing 89.20% of total procurement spend were assessed, providing substantial coverage of our upstream value chain.

Driving Environmental Improvement

We are strengthening the sustainability of our supply chain by working closely with suppliers to improve environmental performance and build greater resilience across the value chain. We are prioritizing carbon-footprint assessments and reduction plans for key raw-material suppliers, particularly those supplying copper, aluminum and polymers, while integrating environmental criteria and corrective-action tracking into supplier onboarding and periodic evaluations.

We also aim to recognize suppliers demonstrating strong environmental performance through initiatives such as Green Supplier, Energy Champion and Zero Waste Champion. To improve the quality of Scope 3 emissions and life-cycle assessment data, we are expanding the use of primary data and working toward common data requirements for strategic suppliers.

Through capability-building sessions, vendor meets and collaborative projects, we continue to encourage greater adoption of renewable energy, recycled materials, water-efficient practices and waste-reduction measures across our supply chain. We have also undertaken a GreenCo assessment covering areas such as green supply chain and product stewardship to identify opportunities to further strengthen procurement practices, supplier engagement and sustainability reporting.

We view supplier sustainability as an ongoing journey, supported by regular evaluations, progressive integration of ESG considerations and long-term collaboration to create greater resilience and shared value.

BIODIVERSITY AND ECOSYSTEMS

Healthy ecosystems support resilient communities, reliable water systems and long-term economic activity. None of our reported plants or offices are located in or around ecologically sensitive areas. However, we recognize that cable manufacturing and its upstream value chain can interact with biodiversity through resource extraction, land use, water consumption, emissions, effluents, waste and logistics.

Our biodiversity policy applies across manufacturing plants, offices and warehouses and extends to employees, suppliers and business partners whose activities can influence biodiversity outcomes.

We are committed to integrating biodiversity considerations into environmental aspects and impact assessments under our ISO 14001:2015 framework. Our approach follows the mitigation hierarchy, with emphasis on avoiding and minimizing impacts on habitats, water bodies and species and controlling pollution through responsible management of emissions, effluents and waste.

We seek to avoid operations in or near legally protected and high-biodiversity-value areas. Responsible sourcing of copper, aluminum, PVC and other materials, together with recycling and reuse, remains an important part of reducing indirect environmental pressure.

Future initiatives being explored include expansion of green zones, local conservation programs, wetland restoration and community tree planting. We also intend to build biodiversity awareness among employees and contractors and strengthen engagement with communities, regulators and other stakeholders.

Our biodiversity policy aligns with ISO 14001 : 2015, the Convention on Biological Diversity and the relevant objectives of SDGs 14 and 15.

The next phase will involve progressively mapping site proximity to protected areas and Key Biodiversity Areas, screening nature-related dependencies and impacts across operations and priority raw materials and defining measurable, site-specific mitigation actions.

Case Study

Building Green Manufacturing Capacity at Sanand

Our greenfield manufacturing facility at Sanand, Gujarat, represents a significant step in expanding production capacity while embedding environmental considerations into infrastructure design and operations. Located within the Sanand-II GIDC Industrial estate near Ahmedabad, the facility is our largest manufacturing plant and is being developed in phases to manufacture LT, HT and EHV cables. Phase I, focused on LT and HT cables, commenced commercial production in December 2025, while Phase II, focused on EHV cables and HT Cables, is targeted for commissioning by March 2027.

Environmental considerations have been integrated into the facility's development approach, with green building certification being pursued to support resource-efficient infrastructure. The plant is designed to progressively incorporate energy-efficient equipment, renewable energy, responsible water management, material efficiency and robust environmental controls. These measures are expected to improve operational efficiency and reduce resource and emissions intensity as production scales.

The facility will also strengthen our capacity to serve infrastructure, renewable energy, power transmission and distribution, electric mobility and other specialized applications. Its expanded capabilities will support growing domestic and international demand while enabling us to extend life-cycle thinking, responsible material use and efficient manufacturing practices across a larger production base.

The Sanand facility reflects our approach to aligning capacity expansion with our long-term environmental ambitions. By integrating considerations relating to energy, water, materials, emissions and waste into the facility's development, we aim to create a scalable manufacturing platform that supports business growth and operational resilience.

CREATING VALUE THROUGH NATURAL CAPITAL

Responsible use of natural capital strengthens both environmental performance and business resilience. During FY 2025-26, KEI achieved significant improvements in energy, water and emissions intensity while increasing revenue and production volumes, demonstrating a continued decoupling of growth from resource consumption. Lower energy and water intensity improve operational efficiency, while renewable energy adoption, cleaner fuels and material circularity support long-term environmental and business value creation.

Together, these actions strengthen compliance-readiness, support customer confidence and help us prepare the business for evolving climate, resource and market expectations.

Our pathway forward

Our next phase of environmental performance will focus on converting the breadth of our initiatives into increasingly measurable, time-bound outcomes.

Priority	FY 2026-27 focus	Medium-term direction
Climate and energy	Deliver the 5% Scope 1 and Scope 2 intensity-reduction target and expand renewable electricity	Establish a long-term decarbonization pathway and deepen Scope 3 supplier action
Energy efficiency	Implement audit recommendations, high-efficiency equipment and improved monitoring	Expand sub-metering, analytics and verified energy-saving programs
Internal carbon pricing	Pilot use in selected capital and procurement decisions	Extend analysis to material Scope 3 emissions and update scenario assumptions
Products and LCA	Convert the 11 completed LCAs into hotspot action plans	Expand portfolio coverage and develop verified Environmental Product Declarations
Water	Complete site-level water-risk and reuse baselines	Establish basin-informed targets and increase water reuse
Circularity	Improve recycler traceability and recovery measurement	Increase recycled content and pilot product take-back programs
Biodiversity	Screen sites and priority value chains for nature-related risks	Develop measurable site action plans and restoration outcomes
Supply chain	Close supplier-assessment gaps and track corrective actions	Integrate ESG performance more deeply into sourcing and decarbonization decisions
Product stewardship	Strengthen EPR-readiness and environmental communication	Expand take-back, recycling and design-for-circularity practices

We will continue to increase the share of renewable electricity and report our progress transparently. A more structured energy-efficiency roadmap across major plants and processes, supported by measurement and verification of savings, will help strengthen performance further.

We also intend to expand energy sub-metering and analytics for energy-intensive equipment and evaluate power-purchase and open-access renewable-energy opportunities based on cost competitiveness, additional renewable capacity and emissions impact.

Over the medium term, our focus will extend further into value-chain decarbonization, supplier ESG performance, product-level environmental transparency, circular design and nature-related risk assessment. These actions will support our long-term ambition of building a more resource-efficient and resilient manufacturing platform.

Governance

Strengthening trust as we scale

Global Economy

The global economy demonstrated resilience throughout 2025 in the face of shifting trade policies and divergent regional performances. Technology investments, particularly in artificial intelligence and related sectors, provided a counterbalance to the headwinds from tariffs and elevated policy uncertainty. Global headline inflation stabilized at 4.1% as annual rates remained consistent across regions. This performance was aided by several economies reporting inflation figures lower than market expectations.

The global geopolitical environment continues to remain uncertain, with rising tensions in West Asia emerging as a major factor affecting global trade, energy markets, and supply chains. At the same time, the ongoing Russia-Ukraine conflict continues to influence crude oil prices, commodity markets, and global logistics to some extent. The recent escalation in geopolitical instability across West Asia has added further pressure on supply chains and input costs, while also contributing to inflationary concerns and volatility across international markets. These developments are indirectly affecting multiple industries through higher raw material costs, delays in shipments, and uncertainty relating to the availability of critical materials and services.

Global output growth achieved 3.5% for the year, aligning closely with earlier estimates. This outcome masked considerable variation across regions. Advanced economies expanded by 1.9%, with the United States recording 2.1% growth, supported by technology outlays and fiscal measures. The euro area achieved 1.4%, while Japan managed 1.1%. Emerging market and developing economies posted stronger results at 4.5%, led by China at 5.0% and India at 7.7%.

Trade tensions moderated through key developments. A truce between the United States and China reduced bilateral tariff rates until November 2026 and suspended export controls on semiconductors and rare earth minerals. The United States also eliminated tariffs on select agricultural products applicable to all countries, maintaining its effective tariff rate near prior levels. Policy uncertainty eased from the October 2025 peaks, yet remained above levels a year earlier. Financial conditions remained broadly accommodative, though sovereign yields showed volatility. High-growth technology stocks, led by the prominent group of seven major firms known as the Magnificent 7, delivered financial returns that outperformed the average performance of the broader stock market.

Global trade volumes stayed firm as healthy technology exports from Asian markets balanced the slowdown in other sectors. Central banks managed inflation with careful interest rate adjustments. While the United States and United Kingdom began gradual rate cuts, the euro area kept its policy steady, and Japan applied small rate increases. These moves maintained favorable financial conditions despite ongoing risks regarding trade and global politics.

Outlook

The global economy is expected to remain on a stable growth path over the medium term despite persistent geopolitical and macroeconomic challenges. Global GDP is projected to expand by 3.0% in 2026 and improve to 3.4% in 2027. This projection reflects a modest upward revision from earlier estimates, as technology investments in artificial intelligence (AI) and related fields continue to offset trade policy headwinds. Fiscal stimulus in key advanced economies, alongside accommodative financial conditions, supports this trajectory, though risks from policy uncertainty and geopolitical tensions persist.

Advanced economies face a moderate expansion of 1.7% in 2026, easing to 1.8% in 2027. The United States leads with 2.3% growth, driven by fiscal measures including tax incentives under the One Big Beautiful Bill Act and a rebound from the 2025 federal government shutdown. The euro area dips to 0.9% amid structural challenges and limited technology investment gains, while Japan moderates to 0.6% following fiscal support from its new government.

Emerging market and developing economies maintain momentum at 3.8% through 2026 and increase to 4.5% in 2027. China anticipates 4.6% growth in 2026, aided by stimulus and lower US tariffs from the recent trade truce, before easing to 4.1% as domestic headwinds re-emerge. India maintains its upward growth trajectory.

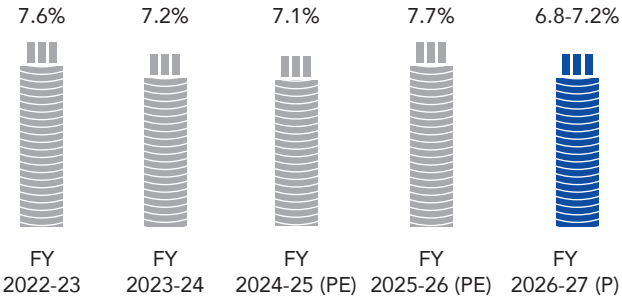

Headline inflation is projected to rise at 4.7% in 2026 and 3.9% in 2027, with advanced economies nearing targets more slowly in the United States. Policy rates decline gradually in the United States and the United Kingdom, remain steady in the euro area, and rise incrementally in Japan. World trade growth slows to 3.5% in 2026 amid tariff adjustments, yet technology exports continue to support growth.

Global demand for wires and cables continued to remain favorable, supported by increasing investments in power transmission infrastructure, renewable energy integration, urbanization and digital infrastructure development across major economies. The accelerating energy transition is driving substantial investments in grid modernization and expansion, as countries strengthen transmission networks to accommodate rising renewable energy capacities. In addition, growing investments in data centers, industrial automation, electric vehicle ecosystems and urban infrastructure projects are increasing demand for specialized cables and electrical solutions. These structural trends are expected to support sustained growth in the global wires and cables industry over the medium to long term and create opportunities for manufacturers with diversified product portfolios and strong execution capabilities.

Indian Economy

The Indian economy exhibited resilience in FY 2025-26 amid global trade uncertainties and market fluctuations. Provisional Estimates indicate real GDP growth of 7.7% alongside Gross Value Added at 7.9%. These figures underscore the strength of a domestic demand-led growth trajectory. Robust agricultural performance bolstered rural earnings. Urban consumption gained momentum from stable jobs and easing inflation.

PE = Provisional Estimates; P = Projections
(Source: PIB [SAE], PIB (PE))

India continued to remain among the world's fastest-growing major economies during FY 2025-26, supported by steady domestic demand, rising investment activity, and continued policy and infrastructure reforms. According to the latest estimates, India is currently the world's sixth-largest economy with a nominal GDP of nearly $4.15 trillion in 2026. The country is expected to maintain strong economic growth over the medium term, supported by expansion across manufacturing, infrastructure, services, and consumption-driven sectors.

SL#	Country	GDP
1	United States	$32.38 trillion
2	China	$20.85 trillion
3	Germany	$5.45 trillion
4	Japan	$4.38 trillion
5	United Kingdom	$4.26 trillion
6	India	$4.15 trillion
7	France	$3.6 trillion
8	Italy	$2.74 trillion
9	Russia	$2.66 trillion
10	Brazil	$2.64 trillion

Private consumption continues as the key engine. Lower inflation and rising real wages fuel this momentum. Public capital expenditure reached ₹12.2 lakh crore. Such outlays advanced infrastructure and stimulated sectors like manufacturing, construction, and energy. Initiatives such as Viksit Bharat 2047 advance self-reliance and capacity enhancement despite external headwinds.

Average headline Consumer Price Index (CPI) Inflation (retail inflation) reached a historic low of 1.7% during the first nine months of FY 2025-26. This price stability has been a key driver in strengthening domestic purchasing power. However, the inflation rate has risen to 3.4%, mostly due to challenges stemming from the West Asian conflicts. This stability is supported by disciplined government spending and steady growth in bank credit. Additionally, the banking sector remains resilient with strong capital reserves and low levels of bad loans. With foreign exchange reserves exceeding $700 billion, India has become the fourth-largest economy and is well-positioned to withstand global volatility.

The Union Budget 2026-27 and subsequent policy measures continued to support domestic demand and investment activity while maintaining fiscal discipline. The Government retained its focus on infrastructure development, manufacturing expansion and employment generation, alongside measures aimed at improving household consumption and private sector participation. Complementing these fiscal initiatives, the Reserve Bank of India adopted an accommodative monetary approach during 2025 by cumulatively reducing the policy repo rate by 100 basis points, currently unchanged at 5.25%, alongside liquidity-enhancing measures, to improve credit availability, lower borrowing costs and support consumption, private investment and overall economic activity. The implementation of the New Income Tax Act, 2025 and the GST rate rationalization measures introduced during the fiscal have simplified the indirect tax framework by reducing tax rates across several goods and rationalizing the rate structure. The reforms have also addressed inverted duty structures in multiple sectors, improving input tax credit alignment and reducing tax-related inefficiencies. For the manufacturing sector, these measures are expected to lower compliance costs, improve supply chain efficiency, facilitate smoother movement of goods and strengthen cost competitiveness. Together with higher disposable incomes, easier credit conditions and continued infrastructure spending, these reforms are expected to support industrial production, private investment and formalization of the economy.

Monetary policy has also become increasingly supportive of growth. Moderating inflation has created room for policy accommodation, improving liquidity conditions and supporting credit growth across households and businesses. Improved access to financing, particularly for housing, infrastructure and small and medium enterprises, is expected to stimulate investment activity and consumption demand. Collectively, these measures are likely to support industrial output, construction activity and private capital expenditure, thereby, creating favorable conditions for sectors linked to infrastructure development and electrical equipment demand.

Outlook

The outlook for the Indian economy stays positive and stable. Projections place real GDP growth for FY 2026-27 between 6.8% and 7.2%. These estimates highlight India's ability to preserve strong momentum despite worldwide uncertainties.

Government spending on infrastructure will continue to provide solid support. Private sector investments keep rising steadily. Policy measures and capacity building further reinforce the manufacturing base. The services sector holds its reliable growth path. Digital progress and resilient exports lend additional strength.

Industrial Overview

Indian Power Industry

India continued to strengthen its position as the world's third-largest power sector during FY 2025-26, supported by ongoing infrastructure expansion and rising electricity demand across industrial, commercial, and residential segments. The country's power generation mix is gradually shifting towards cleaner sources, with renewable energy accounting for nearly 40% of the installed power capacity. While coal continued to remain the primary source for baseload power generation, steady additions in solar and wind capacity supported India's growing presence among the leading renewable energy markets globally.

India's total installed power generation capacity reached 520.51 GW as of January 2026. The sector added a record 52,537 MW during FY 2025-26 up to January 31, 2026, reflecting continued investments across conventional and renewable energy segments. Renewable energy accounted for a major share of the new additions at 39,657 MW, including 34,955 MW of solar capacity and 4,613 MW of wind capacity.

Power Generation Capacity Added

Total power generation stood at 1,846 TWh during FY 2025-26 up to March 31, 2026. Non-fossil fuel sources contributed nearly 29.2% of the total generation at 539 TWh. During the year, the sector successfully met the peak power demand of 242.49 GW. Renewable energy also recorded a key milestone on July 29, 2025, when it met 51.5% of the country's electricity demand on a peak day demand of 203 GW.

Continued investments in transmission, distribution, and generation infrastructure supported a sharp reduction in the national energy shortage to 0.03%, compared with 4.2% in FY 2013-14. The sector has also played a significant role in improving electricity access across the country through village electrification and household connectivity initiatives.

Reduction In Power Shortage

Indian Transmission and Distribution (T&D) Industry

India's transmission and distribution sector continues to play a central role in connecting power generation facilities with end consumers across the country's geographically diverse regions. The sector remains critical to supporting the rising scale of electricity generation capacity, which reached 520.51 GW during 2026. India's transmission network has expanded significantly over the years and now covers nearly 5 lakh circuit kilometers of transmission lines at 220 kV and above. Inter-state transmission capacity reached 1,407 GVA, supporting smoother power transfer across regions and improving grid stability and reliability.

(Source: PIB)

Transmission Development

During FY 2025-26, the Central Electricity Authority recorded the addition of 8,830 circuit kilometers (ckm) of transmission lines across multiple voltage levels. The additions included 2,158 ckm at the 765 kV level and 4,500 ckm at the 400 kV level, while the remaining capacity was added under the 220 kV segment. However, the overall transmission line addition remained below the planned target of 15,253 ckm during the year, indicating delays in the pace of grid expansion.

The gap between planned and actual additions was largely linked to slower execution in the central sector. Power Grid Corporation of India added 2,534 ckm during the year against its targeted expansion, with project implementation affected by land acquisition issues and Right of Way-related challenges. In comparison, private sector participation remained relatively steady, with nearly 1,483 ckm of transmission lines added during FY 2025-26 in line with planned levels.

Progress under the Green Energy Corridors initiative continued during the year, with around 14,500 ckm of dedicated transmission infrastructure commissioned to support renewable energy evacuation. The project remains important for integrating rising solar and wind power capacity into the national grid and strengthening interstate renewable energy transmission capabilities.

India's long-term transmission expansion plans continue to be driven by investment. Under the National Electricity Plan, investments of nearly ₹9.15 lakh crore are expected through 2032 for the development of transmission infrastructure, including the addition of around 1,05,000 ckm of transmission lines and 5,95,000 MVA of transformation capacity. The planned expansion is aimed at supporting projected peak power demand growth and facilitating the evacuation of non-fossil fuel-based power capacity targeted for 2030. Competitive bidding mechanisms and increasing adoption of HVDC transmission technology are also expected to support execution efficiency and grid strengthening over the coming years.

Distribution Network

India's power distribution sector reported a notable improvement in financial performance during FY 2024-25, with distribution companies collectively reporting a profit after tax of ₹2,701 crore. The improvement marked a significant turnaround compared with the substantial losses recorded by the sector over the past decade. Outstanding government dues also declined to ₹4,109 crore by January 2026, reflecting improved payment discipline and better liquidity conditions across distribution utilities.

Operational improvements in the sector continued under the Revamped Distribution Sector Scheme. The scheme supported the rollout of prepaid smart meters and distribution transformer metering infrastructure aimed at improving billing efficiency, energy accounting, and loss monitoring. As a result, Aggregate Technical and Commercial losses declined to 16.16%, while the gap between Average Cost of Supply and Average Revenue Realized narrowed to ₹0.11 per kWh.

The scheme also continued to support rural electrification and last-mile connectivity projects across underserved regions. With a total outlay of ₹3.03 lakh crore, the program remains focused on strengthening distribution infrastructure, improving supply reliability, and reducing distribution losses further over the coming years.

Policy measures and sector reforms continued during the year, with a focus on improving operational efficiency and financial sustainability within the distribution segment. These developments supported the sector's ability to meet peak power demand of 242.49 GW during FY 2025-26, while the national energy shortage declined to a low level of 0.03%.

Wires and Cables Industry

The global wires and cables industry continued to witness steady expansion, supported by increasing investments in power transmission and distribution networks, renewable energy integration and urban infrastructure development. The global wires and cables market was valued at $233.0 billion in 2025. The market is projected to increase to $246.48 billion in 2026, before reaching $409.01 billion by 2034, registering a CAGR of 6.54% during the forecast period. Asia Pacific remained the largest regional market, supported by sustained investments in infrastructure, industrialization and electrification across major economies. Rising construction activity, grid modernization, data center development and expanding telecommunications infrastructure continue to support long-term demand for wires and cables.

The global transition towards cleaner energy systems is creating additional opportunities for the industry. Expansion of renewable energy capacity, strengthening of electricity transmission networks, increasing electrification across transport and industry, and investments in smart grids are driving demand for advanced power and specialized cables. Growing deployment of artificial intelligence infrastructure and hyperscale data centers is also increasing the requirement for reliable, high-performance cable solutions, while stricter safety standards are encouraging the adoption of premium, fire-resistant and environmentally responsible products across residential, commercial and industrial applications.

India is well positioned to benefit from these evolving global trends owing to its expanding manufacturing capabilities, competitive cost structure and improving product quality. Global supply chain diversification and the China plus One sourcing strategy are encouraging international customers to diversify procurement towards alternative manufacturing destinations. India has steadily strengthened its position in the global insulated wires and cables trade, accounting for 1.3% of global exports, with exports increasingly catering to major industrial markets such as the United States and Germany. Supported by expanding manufacturing capacity, adherence to international quality standards and favorable policy initiatives, Indian manufacturers are strengthening their presence across overseas markets, creating significant long-term export opportunities for the country's organized wires and cables industry.

The Indian wires and cables (W&C) industry has evolved into a critical enabler of the country's infrastructure, industrial and economic development, supported by sustained investments in power transmission and distribution, renewable energy, urbanization, real estate, transportation and digital infrastructure. As electrification accelerates across sectors and the need for reliable power connectivity increases, the industry continues to witness broad-based demand across residential, commercial, industrial and utility applications. The increasing emphasis on quality, safety and technologically advanced products is also driving a gradual shift towards organized manufacturers capable of delivering specialized and value-added solutions.

The Indian W&C industry is estimated at approximately ₹1 lakh crore in FY 2025-26. Historically, the industry has expanded at more than 1.5 times India's real GDP growth, reflecting its close linkage with the country's infrastructure and electrification programs. Looking ahead, the industry is expected to sustain a double-digit volume CAGR over the next decade, supported by continued investments across infrastructure, renewable energy, power transmission and distribution, industrial capex and emerging applications such as data centers, even as growth in certain traditional demand segments normalizes from a high base.

Demand continues to diversify across multiple end-use sectors. Real estate remains the largest domestic application, accounting for nearly 35% of industry demand, followed by power distribution. Rising investments in commercial buildings, industrial facilities, transportation infrastructure and renewable energy projects are further broadening the industry's demand base. In parallel, the rapid expansion of India's digital economy is creating new opportunities, with the domestic data center market, currently valued at around $10 billion, projected to grow at a CAGR of approximately 35% over the next four years. Data centers are highly cable-intensive assets, with wires and cables accounting for nearly 8%-10% of total project capex, significantly higher than conventional infrastructure projects.

Structural Growth Drivers

- Infrastructure and Power Sector Investments: Continued investments in power transmission and distribution infrastructure, grid modernization and electrification are expected to remain key demand drivers for the wires and cables industry. The sector is also poised to benefit from the expansion of renewable energy capacity and the associated transmission network, supporting sustained demand for power, control and specialized cables across utility and infrastructure applications.

- Real Estate and Urban Development: The real estate sector remains the largest end-use segment for the Indian wires and cables industry, accounting for approximately 35% of total demand. Sustained residential construction, commercial developments, urban infrastructure expansion and rising demand for premium housing are expected to support long-term consumption of wires and cables.

- Manufacturing Expansion and Industrial Capex: Increasing investments in domestic manufacturing, industrial automation and capacity expansion, supported by Production Linked Incentive (PLI) schemes, Government initiatives and private sector capital expenditure, continue to create demand for electrical infrastructure and specialized connectivity solutions across industrial facilities and production ecosystems.

- Digital Infrastructure Expansion: India's data center market, currently valued at approximately $10 billion, is projected to grow at a CAGR of around 35% over the next four years. Given that wires and cables account for nearly 8%-10% of a data center project's capital expenditure, the rapid expansion of digital infrastructure is expected to emerge as a significant long-term demand driver for the industry.

- Transportation Electrification and Mobility Infrastructure: Increasing investments in railways, metro rail networks, airports and electric vehicle (EV) charging infrastructure are expanding the application of wires and cables across transportation and public infrastructure projects. The growing electrification of mobility is expected to create sustained demand for reliable power and specialized cable solutions.

- Shift Towards Premium Products and Organized Manufacturers: Increasing emphasis on electrical safety, product quality and regulatory compliance is accelerating the shift in demand towards organized manufacturers with established brands and certified product portfolios. Evolving building regulations, rising consumer awareness and growing preference for reliable electrical solutions are supporting the adoption of premium products, including fire-survival cables, low-smoke zero-halogen (LSZH) wires and other specialized cable solutions. This structural transition is expected to favor organized industry participants with strong manufacturing capabilities, extensive distribution networks and continued investment in product innovation.

KEI Industries Limited (KEI or the Company), founded in 1968, is one of India's established manufacturers of wires and cables, catering to residential, commercial, industrial, and infrastructure applications. The Company manufactures a diversified range of products, including low-tension and high-tension power cables, house wires, industrial cables, winding wires, control cables, instrumentation cables, and solar cables. In addition to cable manufacturing, the Company also undertakes Engineering, Procurement, and Construction activities for power infrastructure projects. The Company has developed execution capabilities across transmission and distribution projects for utilities and industrial customers. KEI operates manufacturing facilities at Bhiwadi, Chopanki and Pathredi in Rajasthan, Silvassa and Chinchpada in Dadra and Nagar Haveli, and Sanand in Gujarat. The Sanand facility was developed as a greenfield expansion project to increase production capacity for LT, HT and EHV cables. The Company's domestic presence is supported by a distribution network comprising 2,125 authorized dealers and 36 marketing offices across India. The Company also spread overseas with 4 Offices in the UAE, South Africa, Nepal and Gambia.

KEI has also developed backward integration capabilities in PVC and XLPE compound manufacturing, which supports operational efficiency and product quality control. Its operations are supported by quality, environmental, and occupational safety certifications, including ISO 9001:2015, ISO 14001:2015, and ISO 45001:2018.

KEI supplies products to sectors such as power transmission and distribution, real estate, steel, cement, infrastructure, transportation, refineries, fertilizers, and renewable energy. The Company also has international presence, exporting to more than 60 countries. Its business strategy continues to focus on manufacturing capacity expansion, product development, operational improvements, renewable energy-related opportunities, and technology integration across business processes.

Positioned to Capture Future Growth

The Indian wires and cables industry is entering a phase of sustained expansion, supported by investments in power infrastructure, manufacturing, urban development and digital infrastructure. KEI has continued to strengthen its manufacturing capabilities, distribution reach, customer relationships and international presence to position itself for the increasing demand across domestic and overseas markets.

Manufacturing Capacity Expansion

The Company continues to strengthen its manufacturing capabilities through capacity expansion initiatives to support future demand across its product portfolio. The upcoming manufacturing facility at Sanand, Gujarat, is expected to enhance production capacity, improve operational flexibility and enable the Company to cater to the growing requirements of domestic as well as international customers. The expansion is aligned with the Company's long-term strategy of strengthening its manufacturing-led business while supporting growth across retail, institutional and export markets.

Expanding Retail Reach and Distribution Network

KEI has continued to strengthen its retail presence by expanding its dealer and distributor network across the country. As on March 31, 2026, the Company had 2,125 active working dealers, while sales through the dealer and distribution channel increased 25% during FY26 and contributed 54% of total sales. The expanding distribution network is enabling deeper market penetration and improving product availability across key markets.

Deepening Customer Relationships

The Company continues to strengthen engagement across both retail and institutional customer segments through an expanded product portfolio, consistent service standards and long-standing business relationships. Its diversified customer base across infrastructure, industrial, real estate, power and commercial sectors supports business stability while creating opportunities for repeat business and cross-selling of value-added products.

Strengthening Export Presence

Exports continue to remain an important component of the Company's growth strategy. During FY26, export sales increased to ₹1,833 crore from ₹1,267 crore in the previous year, reflecting the Company's expanding international presence and increasing acceptance across overseas markets. The continued diversification of export markets is expected to provide an additional avenue for long-term growth.

International Quality Standards and Product Certifications

The Company continues to strengthen its global competitiveness through adherence to internationally recognized quality standards and product certifications across key export markets. These certifications enhance customer confidence, facilitate access to overseas markets and support participation in international infrastructure and industrial projects, thereby strengthening the Company's export capabilities.

Product Portfolio

Cables

KEI manufactures a wide range of cables used across power infrastructure, industrial operations, construction projects, and specialized applications. The Company's products cater to sectors such as power utilities, refineries, railways, automobiles, cement, steel, fertilizers, textiles, real estate, and other industrial segments. These products support power transmission, electrical connectivity, communication systems, and operational continuity across critical infrastructure and industrial facilities.

The Company also manufactures specialized products, including solar cables for renewable energy projects and marine and offshore submersible cables designed for demanding underwater operating conditions. KEI's product portfolio comprises a broad range of cable solutions across multiple voltage categories and industrial applications. KEI's comprehensive cable offerings include:

- Extra-High Voltage (EHV) cables up to 400 KV
- High Tension (HT) and Low Tension (LT) power cables
- Instrumentation and control cables
- Single core/multicore flexible cables
- Rubber cables
- Solar cables
- Fire survival/resistant cables
- Marine & offshore submersible cables
- Communication cables

- Thermocouple cables
- EV charging cables and guns
- ESP cables
- House wires
- Winding wires
- Stainless steel wires
- Medium voltage cover conductors (MVCC) cables

KEI has established its presence in the Extra High Voltage cable segment up to 400 kV. Over the years, the Company has secured pre-qualification approvals that enable participation in large-scale EHV cable projects and transmission infrastructure tenders.

Demand for EHV cables has continued to increase across transmission and distribution networks, supported by the growing preference for underground cabling solutions and the operational advantages offered over conventional overhead transmission systems. KEI has also strengthened its position in this segment through Engineering, Procurement, and Construction project execution capabilities and backward integration in PVC & XLPE compound manufacturing.

EPC Projects

KEI provides Engineering, Procurement, and Construction services across power transmission and distribution infrastructure projects. The Company undertakes turnkey project execution covering Gas Insulated Substations, Air Insulated Substations, overhead transmission systems, underground cabling networks, and related distribution infrastructure projects.

The Company has progressively adopted a more selective approach towards the EPC business, recognizing its relatively higher working capital requirements and longer project execution cycles. This strategic shift enables more efficient allocation of capital towards higher-margin and asset-light growth segments, particularly retail wires and cables, exports and value-added products, where capital turnover and return potential are comparatively stronger. While the EPC business continues to support the Company's presence in the power infrastructure sector and strengthens long-standing customer relationships, KEI's long-term growth strategy remains focused on expanding its manufacturing-led businesses and improving overall capital efficiency through disciplined capital allocation.

Business Segment

Retail

KEI derives a significant share of its business from retail operations comprising house wires, low tension cables, and high-tension cables. The retail segment continues to remain an important contributor to the Company's revenue and profitability, supported by product quality, established market presence, and brand recognition developed over the years.

The Company has continued to expand its retail reach through focused marketing initiatives, dealer network expansion and brand visibility programmes. KEI's distribution network comprised 2,125 active dealers as of March 31, 2026, supporting wider product availability across metropolitan regions as well as Tier I and Tier II cities.

The wires and cables industry is witnessing increasing preference for safer, energy-efficient and environmentally responsible products. Rising awareness regarding fire safety, building standards and sustainability considerations is supporting demand for low-smoke, halogen-free, fire-resistant and other specialized cable solutions across residential, commercial and infrastructure applications. The growing adoption of green buildings, data centers and modern electrical infrastructure is further increasing the requirement for higher-specification and application-oriented products. In response to these evolving market trends, the Company continues to strengthen its product portfolio through its NABL-accredited research and development center and the introduction of advanced cable solutions designed to meet changing customer requirements and support its positioning in the premium segment.

Key Highlights

The Company's heightened attention to retail delivered solid outcomes. Sales reached ₹6,349 crore in FY 2025-26, up from ₹5,088 crore the previous year. Retail's contribution to net sales rose to 54% in FY 2025-26 from 52% in FY 2024-25.

Institutional

KEI's institutional business focuses on supplying top-quality Extra High Voltage (EHV) cables, HT and LT cables, plus stainless-steel wires, while handling complete turnkey EPC contracts. High entry hurdles, including substantial capital needs, specialized technical knowledge, proven execution history, and strict regulatory standards, protect this competitive space.

Over time, KEI has developed a dominant institutional presence by prioritizing product superiority, cutting-edge production capabilities, steady R&D investments, and smart go-to-market approaches. Strong demand flows from sectors such as oil and gas operations, refineries, railway systems, metro developments, power transmission, renewable projects, cement production, steel manufacturing, data centers, electric vehicle infrastructure, and property development.

Key Highlights

Domestic institutional sales grew to ₹3,614 crore in FY 2025-26 from ₹3,412 crore in FY 2024-25. The segment accounted for 31% of net sales in FY 2025-26, down from 35% the prior year.

Exports

KEI has established itself as a significant international contender within the wires and cables sector, with overseas operations gaining momentum through a forward-thinking range of premium products that adhere to demanding global benchmarks. The Company conducts business across more than 60 nations, backed by dedicated offices in four key overseas locations, delivering Extra High Voltage (EHV), Medium Voltage (MV), and Low Voltage (LV) cables to vital industries such as oil and gas projects, renewable energy developments, and utility networks.

Primary destinations for these exports encompass Australia, the United States, Europe, the Middle East and various African markets.

Key Highlights

Even amidst worldwide economic pressures and regional geopolitical strains, export revenues climbed to ₹1,833 crore in FY 2025-26 from ₹1,267 crore recorded in FY 2024-25. The period marked KEI's successful entry into European and US territories, moves anticipated to bolster both revenue growth and profitability moving forward. Looking ahead, KEI targets elevating this share to 20% within medium term by capitalizing on the forthcoming Sanand plant's advanced EHV and HVDC production strengths to fulfil rising worldwide requirements, further cementing its standing as a reliable global collaborator.

Opportunities and Threats

Market Opportunities

- Export Market Expansion: Global supply chain diversification and the China Plus One sourcing strategy continue to create opportunities for Indian manufacturers to strengthen their presence in international markets. KEI is well positioned to benefit from this trend through its expanding export footprint, internationally certified product portfolio, growing manufacturing capabilities and presence across multiple overseas markets. The Company's continued focus on international quality standards and customer acquisition is expected to support long-term export growth.

- Import Substitution and Domestic Manufacturing: Government initiatives such as the 'Make in India' programme, Production Linked Incentive (PLI) schemes and Quality Control Orders (QCOs) are encouraging greater adoption of domestically manufactured electrical products. With its integrated manufacturing facilities, diversified product portfolio and established quality standards, KEI is well positioned to capitalize on the increasing preference for organised domestic manufacturers across infrastructure, industrial and building projects.

- Expansion of Value-added and Specialized Products: Growing preference for technologically advanced and application-specific products is driving demand for specialized offerings such as fire-survival cables, low-smoke zero-halogen (LSZH) wires, solar cables, instrumentation cables, railway cables and other high-performance electrical solutions. KEI continues to strengthen its value-added product portfolio through ongoing product development and manufacturing capabilities, enabling the Company to address evolving customer requirements while improving product differentiation and value realization.

- Industry Consolidation and Formalization: Rising compliance requirements, stricter quality standards, increasing emphasis on product safety and implementation of Quality Control Orders are accelerating the shift from unorganized to organized manufacturers. With an established brand, diversified product portfolio, extensive dealer and distributor network, proven execution capabilities and long-standing customer relationships, KEI is well positioned to strengthen its market presence as industry consolidation continues.

- Innovation and Technology-led Product Development: Advancements in electrical infrastructure, industrial automation, renewable energy systems and smart buildings continue to increase demand for technologically advanced cable solutions. KEI supports these evolving requirements through continuous product development, research and development capabilities and a focus on quality and testing standards, enabling the Company to address emerging applications across domestic and international markets.

Business Threats

- Raw Material Price Volatility: Fluctuations in the prices of key raw materials, particularly copper and aluminium, may affect input costs, profitability and working capital requirements, especially in a competitive pricing environment. KEI mitigates this risk through calibrated pricing strategies, disciplined inventory management, diversified procurement practices and a broad customer base, enabling the Company to manage commodity price movements while maintaining operational stability.

- Intensifying Competitive Landscape: Capacity additions by existing manufacturers and the entry of new players may increase competitive intensity and exert pricing pressure across product categories. KEI's established brand, diversified product portfolio, extensive dealer and distributor network, long-standing institutional customer relationships and strong execution capabilities position the Company to compete effectively across retail, institutional and export markets.

- Execution Risks in Infrastructure Projects: Delays in project approvals, execution or implementation of large infrastructure and power projects may affect demand across certain end-use segments. KEI mitigates this risk through a diversified business model with balanced exposure across retail, institutional, export and EPC businesses, reducing dependence on any single demand segment while supporting business continuity.

- Regulatory and Compliance Requirements: Increasing quality, environmental and safety standards require continuous investments in manufacturing capabilities, product development and compliance systems. KEI continues to invest in modern manufacturing facilities, research and development, quality assurance processes and internationally recognized product certifications, enabling the Company to meet evolving regulatory requirements across domestic and international markets.

- Global Economic and Trade Uncertainties: Changes in global trade policies, geopolitical developments, currency fluctuations and supply chain disruptions may influence export demand, raw material availability and overall market sentiment. KEI continues to diversify its export presence across multiple geographies while maintaining a balanced domestic and international business portfolio, helping reduce concentration risk and enhance business stability amid changing global conditions.

Strategic Initiatives and Outlook

KEI is pursuing a multifaceted strategic outlook focused on scaling operations and deepening market reach. A primary pillar of this strategy involves capacity expansion through both brownfield and greenfield projects to meet rising demand. The company is also committed to growing its retail business and expanding its distribution network to increase penetration across diverse regions.

Beyond domestic growth, the outlook emphasizes scaling up exports to strengthen the Company's presence in overseas markets. Furthermore, KEI aims to gain a larger share in the Extra High Voltage (EHV) market by leveraging increased capacity and specialized focus in this segment. 3. Describe the processes in place to safely reclaim your products for reusing, recycling, and disposing at the end of life for:

Plastics (including packaging) E- Waste Hazardous Waste Other Waste	Electrical cables are inherently designed for long-term use, typically offering a service life of 20 to 30 years due to their durability and resilience. Their primary components are metals such as copper and aluminum, along with insulating materials align well with the principles of a circular economy. Unlike many other products, cables at the end of their useful life are not treated as waste but are regarded as valuable secondary raw materials. They are widely utilized across industries such as copper smelting, aluminum recovery, and steel manufacturing, forming part of a closed-loop, cradle-to-cradle system. Globally, scrap cables are actively traded and serve as an important input for new cable production as well as other metallurgical processes. At KEI we are committed to advancing circularity across our operations. Scrap cables and other production waste are systematically recovered and recycled, with processes designed to maximize the internal reuse of manufacturing scrap. Additionally, the Company partners with authorized recyclers to ensure the environmentally sound disposal and recovery of plastic insulation, e-waste, and other associated waste streams. In line with industry best practices, our waste management systems are structured to ensure regulatory compliance while enhancing resource efficiency. We are working towards minimizing waste sent to landfill and continuously increasing the proportion of recycled content in our products. Furthermore, recycler certifications have been obtained for 99% of scrap generated (by quantity), reinforcing our commitment to responsible waste management. The recyclers further channel metallurgical scrap, non-ferrous materials, and other waste such as packaging, plastic, rubber, and glass to downstream industries for conversion into new products. Our approach reflects a broader commitment to embedding circular economy principles across the value chain from product design and manufacturing to end-of-life recovery thereby contributing to a more resource-efficient and low-carbon future.

These include terrestrial ecotoxicity, global warming potential, human carcinogenic toxicity, marine ecotoxicity, terrestrial acidification, ozone formation, freshwater eutrophication, and fossil resource scarcity. Recognizing our responsibility to mitigate such unintended consequences, the Company will initiate a series of targeted interventions aimed at reducing environmental externalities across the product life cycle.

   The following internal measures are being explored as part of our commitment to continuous improvement:

   1. Responsible sourcing of key raw materials from the suppliers with verified sustainability credentials.
   2. Exploration of recycled materials to reduce CO_2 and SO_2 emissions during manufacturing.
   3. Research and development of sustainable alternatives for conventional wire and cable materials and coatings.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

S. No.	Key Audit Matter	Auditor's Response
1	Revenue - Performance Obligations The Company is engaged in the manufacturing and sale of various types of cables and stainless steel (SS) wires, catering to customers globally through both institutional channels and an established dealer network. Sales contracts contain various performance obligations and other terms and the determination of when significant performance obligations have been met varies albeit a specific point in time can often be established. As a consequence, the Company has performed a detailed analysis of its sales contracts and established appropriate principles for determining the timing of revenue recognition, ensuring that revenue is recognized in the relevant accounting period.	Audit Procedure Applied Our audit included but was not limited to the following procedures: • Mapped and evaluated selected systems and processes for revenue recognition and tested a sample of key controls. • Selecting a sample from each type of the contracts with the customers, and testing the operating effectiveness of the internal control, relating to identification of the distinct performance obligations and determination of transaction price. • Tested sample of sales transactions for compliance with the company's accounting principles. • Read and assessed the disclosure made in the financial statements for assessing compliance with disclosure requirements.

S. No.	Key Audit Matter	Auditor's Response
2	Revenue – Variable Consideration Revenue is recognized in accordance with Ind AS 115 and is measured net of discounts, incentives, and rebates offered to customers based on sales arrangements. The Company estimates variable consideration, including discounts and rebates, using the terms and conditions specified in sales agreements, supported by historical trends and past experience. At the reporting date, the company estimates and accrues for discounts and rebates they consider as having been incurred but not yet paid.	Audit Procedure Applied Our audit included but was not limited to the following procedures: • Understanding the policies and procedures applied to revenue recognition including an analysis of the effectiveness of controls related to revenue recognition processes employed by the Company. • Carrying out substantive analytical procedures, analysing the actual performance of revenue and cost of sales related to discounts, incentives and rebates etc. • Considered the terms of the contracts to determine the transaction price including any variable consideration to verify the transaction price used to compute revenue and to test the basis of estimation of the variable consideration. • Analysing and discussing with management significant contracts including contractual terms and conditions related to discounts, incentives and rebates used in the related estimates. • Reviewing disclosures included in the notes to the accompanying financial statements.

Revenue is recognized in accordance with Ind AS 115 and Performance obligations in such cases are satisfied over time and accordingly revenue is recognised over the time in such cases. The determination of the appropriate method for measuring progress, as well as the assessment of the extent of completion, involves significant judgment and is therefore considered a Key Audit Matter.	Audit Procedure Applied Our audit included but was not limited to the following procedures: • We tested the relevant internal controls used to ensure the completeness, accuracy and timing of revenue recognised including controls over the degree of completion of EPC projects. • We evaluated and analysed the significant judgements and estimates made by the management and also reviewed sample contracts with customers to assess whether the method of recognition of revenue is relevant and is consistent with the accounting policies of the company. • Selecting a sample of contracts for each of the key scope in components and evaluated them along with supporting evidence to determine whether various elements of revenue recognition are assessed in accordance with the principles prescribed under Ind AS 115. • Tested samples of un-invoiced revenue entries with reference to the reports that records the costs incurred. • Read and assessed the disclosure made in the financial statements for assessing compliance with disclosure requirements.

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexure to Board's Report, but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The other information is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above, when it becomes available, and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the other information, if we conclude, that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance as required under SA 720 'The Auditor's responsibilities Relating to Other Information'.

Management's Responsibility for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the state of affairs, profit / loss and other comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, the Management and Board of Directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management and Board of Directors.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of Management and Board of Directors use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's Management and Board of Directors of the Company are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal controls over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to Standalone Financial Statements based on our audit. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system with reference to Standalone Financial Statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to Standalone Financial Statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system with reference to Standalone Financial Statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Standalone Financial Statements

A company's internal financial control with reference to Standalone Financial Statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of standalone financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Standalone Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to Standalone Financial Statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to Standalone Financial Statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to Standalone Financial Statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system with reference to Standalone Financial Statements and such internal financial controls with reference to Standalone Financial Statements were operating effectively as at 31st March, 2026, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note Issued by the ICAI.

xix. On the basis of the financial ratios, ageing and expected dates of realisation of financial assets and payment of financial liabilities, other information accompanying the financial statements and our knowledge of the Board of Directors and Management plans and based on our examination of the evidence supporting the assumptions, nothing has come to our attention, which causes us to believe that any material uncertainty exists as on the date of the audit report indicating that Company is not capable of meeting its liabilities existing at the date of balance sheet as and when they fall due within a period of one year from the balance sheet date. We, however, state that this is not an assurance as to the future viability of the Company. We further state that our reporting is based on the facts up to the date of the audit report and we neither give any guarantee nor any assurance that all liabilities falling due within a period of one year from the balance sheet date, will get discharged by the Company as and when they fall due.

xx. There is no unspent amount under sub-section (5) of Section 135 of the Act, for any project or ongoing project, hence, reporting under clause 3(xx)(a) & 4(b) is not applicable.

2.4 Significant Management Judgements in applying Accounting Policies and Estimation Uncertainty

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated. They are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that may have a financial impact on the company and that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Although these estimates and assumptions used in accompanying financial statements are based upon management's evaluation of relevant facts and circumstances as of date of financial statements which in management's opinion are prudent and reasonable, actual results may differ from estimates and assumptions used in preparing accompanying financial statements.

Any revision to accounting estimates is recognized prospectively from the period in which results are known/ materialise in accordance with applicable Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS). Information about estimates and assumptions that have the most significant effect on recognition and measurement of assets, liabilities, income and expenses is provided below.

A. Significant Management Judgements

Following are Significant Management Judgements in applying Accounting Policies of the Company that have most significant effect on the Financial Statements.

I. Evaluation of Indicators for Impairment of Assets

The evaluation of applicability of indicators of impairment of assets requires assessment of several external and internal factors which could result in deterioration of recoverable amount of assets.

II. Revenue from contracts with customers

Certain contracts of the Company for sale of goods and services include discounts, rebates & Incentives that give rise to variable consideration. The Company determined that estimates of variable consideration are based on its historical experience, business forecast and current economic conditions. The Company determined that expected value method is appropriate method to use in estimating the variable consideration as the large number of customer contracts that have similar characteristics.

B. Estimation uncertainty

Information about estimates and assumptions that have most significant effect on recognition and measurement of assets, liabilities, income and expenses is provided below:

I. Revenue Recognition

Where revenue contracts include deferred payment terms, management of the Company determines fair value of consideration receivable using the expected collection period and incremental rate of borrowing interest rate prevailing at the date of transaction.

II. Cost to Complete

The Company's management estimate the cost to complete for each project for the purpose of revenue recognition and recognition of anticipated losses of the projects, if any. In the process of calculating the cost to complete, management conducts regular and systematic reviews of actual results and future projections with comparison against budget. The process requires monitoring controls including financial and operational controls and identifying major risks facing the Company and developing and implementing initiative to manage those risks. The Company's management is confident that the costs to complete the project are fairly estimated.

III. Useful lives of property, plant and equipment

The Company reviews the useful life of property, plant and equipment at the end of each reporting period. This reassessment may result in change in depreciation expense in current and future periods.

IV. Fair Value Measurement of Financial Instrument

When fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the balance sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using various valuation techniques. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as Liquidity Risk, Credit Risk and Volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect reported fair value of financial instruments.

V. Impairment of Financial Assets

Impairment provisions of financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The Company uses judgement in making these assumptions and selecting inputs to the impairment calculation, based on Company's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

VI. Impairment of Investments In Subsidiaries and Associates

Determining whether the investments in subsidiaries and associates are impaired requires an estimate in the value in use of investments. In considering the value in use, the directors have anticipated the future market conditions and other parameters that affect the operations of these entities.

VII. Inventories

The Company estimates net realisable values of inventories, taking into account the most reliable evidence available at each reporting date. The future realisation of these inventories may be affected by future technology or other market driven changes that may reduce future selling prices.

VIII. Recoverability of Advances / Receivables

The Company from time to time reviews the recoverability of advances and receivables. Review is done at least once in a financial year and such assessment requires significant management judgement based on financial position of the counter-parties, market information and other relevant factors.

IX. Provisions for Warranties

Warranty provisions are determined based on the historical percentage of warranty expense to sales for the same types of goods for which the warranty is currently being determined. The same percentage to the sales is applied for the current accounting period to derive the warranty expense to be accrued. It is very unlikely that actual warranty claims will exactly match the historical warranty percentage, so such estimates are reviewed annually for any material changes in assumptions and likelihood of occurrence.

X. Income Tax and Deferred Tax

Uncertainties exist with respect to the interpretation of complex tax regulations, changes in tax laws, and the amount and timing of future taxable income. Given the wide range of business relationships and the long term nature and complexity of existing contractual agreements, differences arising between actual results and assumptions made, or future changes to such assumptions, could necessitate future adjustments to tax income and expense already recorded. The Company establishes provisions, based on reasonable estimates. The amount of such provisions is based on various factors, such as experience of previous tax audits and differing interpretations of tax regulations.

A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and tax losses can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilised. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies. Accordingly, the Company exercises its judgement to reassess the carrying amount of deferred tax assets at the end of each reporting period.

XI. Provisions and Contingencies

Management judgement is required for estimating the possible outflow of resources, if any, in respect of contingencies/claim/litigations against the Company as it is not possible to predict the outcome of pending matters with accuracy.

XII. Defined Benefit Obligation (DBO)

Management's estimate of the DBO is based on a number of critical underlying assumptions such as standard rates of inflation, mortality, discount rate and anticipation of future salary increases. Variation in these assumptions may impact the DBO amount and the annual defined benefit expenses.

2.5 Exceptional Items

Exceptional items are transactions which due to their size or incidence are separately disclosed to enable a full understanding of the Company's financial performance. Items which may be considered exceptional are significant restructuring charges, gains or losses on disposal of investments of subsidiaries & associates and impairment losses/write down in the value of investment in subsidiaries & associates and significant disposal of fixed assets.

2.6 Recent Pronouncement

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendment Rules, 2025 on 13th August 2025, introducing amendments to, inter alia, Ind AS 1, Ind AS 7, Ind AS 12, Ind AS 107 and Ind AS 101, applicable for accounting periods beginning on or after 1st April 2025.

These amendments primarily relate to

(i) clarification on classification of liabilities as current or non-current, including those with covenants,

(ii) enhanced disclosure requirements for supplier finance arrangements, and

(iii) introduction of a temporary exception and related disclosures in respect of Pillar Two income taxes.

The Company has evaluated the impact of the aforesaid amendments and concluded that there is no material impact on the recognition and measurement of amounts reported in the financial statements; however, the Company has provided additional disclosures, wherever required, in compliance with the amended standards.

2.7 The material accounting policies used in preparation of the financial statements have been disclosed in the respective notes.

3. Property, Plant and Equipment

Accounting Policy

Freehold land is carried at historical cost. Property, Plant and Equipment are stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Cost of Property, Plant and Equipment comprises its purchase price net of any trade discounts and rebates, any import duties and other taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from the tax authorities), any directly attributable expenditure on making asset ready for its intended use, including relevant borrowing costs for qualifying assets and any expected costs of decommissioning.

Borrowing Cost attributable to acquisition, construction of qualifying assets is capitalized until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use. Indirect expenses during construction period, which are required to bring the asset in the condition and location for its intended use by the management and are directly attributable to bringing the asset to its position, are also capitalised.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and cost of the item can be measured reliably.

Expenditure incurred after Property, Plant and Equipment have been put into operation, such as repairs and maintenance, are charged to Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which costs are incurred.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of Property, Plant and Equipment outstanding at each Balance Sheet date is classified as capital advances under other non-current assets.

An item of Property, Plant and Equipment and any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the Statement of Profit and Loss account when the asset is derecognised.

Depreciation on Property, Plant and Equipment is charged on straight line method either on the basis of rates arrived at with reference to the useful life of the assets evaluated by Independent valuer and approved by the Management or rates arrived at based on useful life prescribed under Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

The following useful lives are applied:

5. Right of Use Assets

Accounting Policy

Ind AS 116 requires lessees to determine the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease adjusted with any option to extend or terminate the lease, if the use of such option is reasonably certain. The Company makes an assessment on the expected lease term on a lease-by-lease basis and thereby assesses whether it is reasonably certain that any options to extend or terminate the contract will be exercised. The lease term in future periods is reassessed to ensure that the lease term reflects the current economic circumstances. After considering current and future economic conditions, the company has concluded that no material changes are required to lease period relating to the existing lease contracts. Lease liability and ROU assets have been separately presented in the Balance Sheet and lease payments have been classified as financing cash flows.

Company as a Lessee

The company recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received.

The right-of-use asset is subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain re-measurements of the lease liability.

Finance lease

The Company has entered into land lease arrangement at various locations. Terms of such lease ranges from 75-99 years. In case of lease of land for 90 years and above, it is likely that such leases meet the criteria that at the inception of the lease the present value of the minimum lease payments amounts to at least substantially all of the fair value of the leased asset. Accordingly, the Company has classified leasehold land as finance leases applying Ind AS 17/ Ind AS 116. For such leases, the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset at the date of initial application of Ind AS 116 is the carrying amount of the lease asset on the transition date as measured applying Ind AS 17.

Leasehold land is amortised on a straight line basis over the unexpired period of their respective lease ranging from 75-99 years. Leasehold improvements are depreciated on straight line basis over their initial agreement period.

Others

The following is the summary of practical expedients elected on initial application:

(a) Applied a single discount rate to a portfolio of leases of similar assets in similar economic environment with a similar end date.

(b) Applied the exemption not to recognise right-of-use assets and liabilities for short term leases, variable lease and leases of low value assets."

(c) Excluded the initial direct costs from the measurement of the right-of-use asset at the date of initial application.

Accounting Policy

Trade receivables represent Company's right to an amount of consideration that is unconditional (i.e. only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due). Trade Receivables are generally non-interest bearing and are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at cost less provision for impairment.

As a practical expedient the Company has adopted 'Simplified Approach' using the provision matrix method for recognition of expected loss on trade receivables. The provision matrix is based on three years rolling average default rates observed over the expected life of the trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. These average default rates are applied on total credit risk exposure on trade receivables and outstanding for more than one year at the reporting date to determine lifetime Expected Credit Losses.

15. Income Taxes

Accounting Policy

Current Income Tax assets and liabilities are measured at amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside Profit and Loss is also recognised outside profit and loss (either in Other Comprehensive Income or in Equity). Current tax items are recognised in correlation to underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate. Tax expense for the year comprises of current tax and deferred tax.

The tax jurisdiction of the Company is India. Further, the Company periodically receives notices and inquiries from Indian income tax authorities related to the Company's operations. The Company has evaluated these notices and inquiries and has concluded that any consequent income tax claims or demands, if any, by the income tax authorities will not succeed on ultimate resolution.

The Government of India has enacted new income tax legislation (Income tax Act, 2025) effective from Tax Year 1st April, 2026. Company has evaluated the implications of this change on its Current and Deferred Tax positions. Based on the assessment, the Company does not expect any material impact on its financial Statements.

(E) Deferred Tax

Accounting Policy

Deferred Income Taxes are calculated using Balance Sheet Approach, on temporary differences between tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except when it is probable that temporary differences will not reverse in foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences and carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which deductible temporary differences and carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilized.

Carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and same taxation authority.

(h) Employee stock Option Plan (ESOP):

Accounting Policy

The Company operates equity-settled share-based payment plans for eligible employees. Fair Value of options granted under this option plan is recognised as an employee benefit expense over the vesting period with corresponding increase in other equity (Employee Stock Options Outstanding) in accordance with recognition and measurement principles as per Ind AS 102 "Share Based Payments". The fair value of options granted is determined at the grant date using an appropriate valuation model (Black-Scholes), taking into account terms and conditions upon which the options were granted, including market-based performance conditions. Market-based conditions are considered on the grant date fair value and are not subsequently revised. Options that do not vest due to failure to satisfy performance and service conditions are not recognised. At each reporting date, the Company revises its estimates of the number of options expected to vest based on performance and service conditions and recognises the impact of such revisions in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Total expense is recognised over the vesting period, which is period over which all of specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied. At end of the reporting period, the company revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to vest based on the non-market vesting and service conditions. It recognises impact of revision to original estimates, if any, in profit and loss, with corresponding adjustment to equity.

No expense is recognised for options that do not ultimately vest because performance and/or service conditions have not been met. In case of modification of terms, any incremental fair value is recognised over the remaining vesting period. In case of cancellation or settlement, the unrecognised expense is recognised immediately in profit and loss.

The dilutive effect, if any of outstanding options is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of diluted earnings per share in accordance with Ind AS 33.

19. Lease Liabilities

Accounting Policy

Lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, company's incremental borrowing rate. Generally, the company uses its incremental borrowing rate as the discount rate.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability comprise the following:

- Fixed payments, including in-substance fixed payments;
- Variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate as at the commencement date;
- Amounts expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee; and
- The exercise price under a purchase option that the company is reasonably certain to exercise, lease payments in an optional renewal period if the company is reasonably certain to exercise an extension option, and penalties for early termination of a lease unless the company is reasonably certain not to terminate early.

Lease liability is measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. It is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or rate, if there is a change in the company's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, or if company changes its assessment of whether it will exercise a purchase, extension or termination option.

When lease liability is re-measured in this way, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

Short-Term Leases and Leases of Low-Value Assets

The company has elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for short- term leases of real estate properties that have a lease term upto12 months or are of low value. The company recognises the lease payments associated with these leases as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

20. Provisions

Accounting Policy

Provisions represent liabilities to the Company for which amount, or timing is uncertain. Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive), as a result of past events, and it is probable that an outflow of resources, that can be reliably estimated, will be required to settle such an obligation.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows to net present value using an appropriate pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. Unwinding of the discount is recognized in the statement of profit and loss as a finance cost.

The Company provides product warranties and does not sell the warranty separately to its customers. Provision for warranty-related costs is recognised when the product is sold, or service is provided to customers. Initial recognition is based on historical experience. The Company periodically reviews the adequacy of product warranties and adjusts warranty percentage and warranty provisions for actual experience, if necessary. The timing of outflow is expected to be within one to two years.

An Onerous Contract is a contract in which unavoidable costs of meeting obligations under the contract exceed economic benefits expected to be received under it. If the company identifies a contract as an Onerous Contract, the present obligation under the contract is measured and recognised as provision.

Provisions are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. If it is no longer probable that outflow of resources would be required to settle obligation, provision is reversed.

24. Revenue from Operations

Accounting Policy

(i) Measurement of Revenue

Revenue from contracts with customers is recognised when control of the goods or services are transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services.

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, adjusted for discounts, incentive schemes, if any, as per contracts with customers. Taxes collected from customers on behalf of Government are not treated as Revenue.

(ii) Engineering, Procurement and Construction (EPC) Projects

Performance obligation in case of revenue from long - term contracts is satisfied over the time. Since the company creates an asset that the customer controls as the asset is created and the company has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date if it meets the agreed specifications, revenue from long term contracts, where the outcome can be estimated reliably and 10% of the project cost is incurred, is recognized under the percentage of completion method by reference to the stage of completion of the contract activity. The stage of completion is measured by input method i.e. the proportion that costs incurred to date bear to the estimated total costs of a contract.

The total costs of contracts are estimated based on technical and other estimates. In case of value of uninstalled materials incurred that is not proportionate to the Company's progress in satisfying the performance obligation, revenue is to be recognised at an amount equal to the cost of a good used to satisfy a performance obligation. In the event that a loss is anticipated on a particular contract, provision is made for the estimated loss. Contract revenue earned in excess of billing is reflected under as "contract asset" and billing in excess of contract revenue is reflected under "contract liabilities". Retention money receivable from project customers does not contain any significant financing element, these are retained for satisfactory performance of contract.

(iii) Sale of Goods

Revenue from sale of goods is recognised at the point of time when control of the goods is transferred to the customer, generally on delivery of the goods. The Company considers whether there are other promises in the contract that are separate performance obligations to which a portion of the transaction price needs to be allocated (e.g., Freight and Incentive schemes). In determining the transaction price for the sale of goods, the Company considers the effects of variable consideration and consideration payable to the customer (if any).

For contracts that are CIF (Cost Insurance Freight) contracts, the revenue is recognised when the goods reached at final destination. For contracts that are FOB (Free on Board) contracts, revenue is recognised when company delivers the goods to an independent carrier.

(iv) Variable Consideration

If consideration in a contract includes a variable amount, the Company estimates amount of consideration to which it will be entitled in exchange for transferring the goods to customer. Variable Consideration is estimated at contract inception and constrained until it is highly probable that a significant revenue reversal in amount of cumulative revenue recognised will not occur when associated uncertainty with variable consideration is subsequently resolved. Some contracts for sale of manufactured goods provide customers with a right of incentives & discounts. The incentives and volume rebates give rise to variable consideration.

(a) Cash Discount which are determinable on the date of transaction, are recognised as reduction of revenue by the company

(b) Volume Discounts, Timely Payment Incentives & Other Incentive Schemes the Company provides retrospective volume discounts to certain customers once the quantity of products purchased during the period exceed a threshold specified in the contract. Other Incentives promised by the company on achieving certain sales thresholds also a form of identifiable benefit that are identified as a separate component of the sales transaction.

In such cases, the Company estimates fair value of Incentives promised to its customers. To estimate the variable consideration for the expected future rebates and discounts, the Company applies the expected value method. The Company estimates variable consideration and recognises a refund liability for the expected future rebates. Accordingly, the company recognises lesser revenue if such discounts are probable and the amount is determinable. Any subsequent changes in the amount of such estimates are transferred to statement of profit and loss.

(c) Other Variable Considerations If the contract includes a variable consideration, the company estimates the amount it expects to receive in exchange for transferring the promised goods or services to the customer. This estimate is updated at each reporting date.

(v) Government Grant

Company receives Grant in the form of Export incentives under various schemes notified by the Government. The Export Incentives are recognised on the basis of applicable regulations, and when reasonable assurance to receive such revenue is established. Export incentives income is recognised in the statement of profit and loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Company recognises as expenses the related costs for which the assistance/incentive is intended to compensate.

In the case of Export Promotion Capital Goods ('EPCG') grant, the Company recognises the grant in the statement of profit and loss on a systematic basis over the useful life of the assets.

(vi) Significant Financing Components

Significant financing Components In respect of advance received from customers, using the practical expedient in Ind AS 115. the company does not adjust the promised amount of consideration for the effect of a significant financing component if it expects , at contract inception, that the period between transfer of the promised good or service to the customer and when the customer pays for that good or service will be within normal operating cycle. Retention money receivable from project customers does not contain any significant financing element, these are retained for satisfactory performance of contract.

(vii) Contract Balances

Contract assets are in the nature of unbilled receivables, which arises when Company satisfies a performance obligation but does not have an unconditional right to consideration. Contract assets are subject to impairment assessment.

A contract liability is the obligation to transfer goods and services for which income is received in advance. When an incentive is payable to a customer for which the revenue is already recognised by the company, the incentive so payable to the customer is also treated as Contract Liability. If a customer pays consideration before the Company transfers goods or services to the customer, i.e advance received from customer the same is recognised as contract liability. Contract liabilities are recognized as revenue when the Company performs under the contract (i.e., transfers control of the related goods or services to the customer).

Defined Benefit Plan- As Per Actuarial Valuation

The Company operates a defined benefit plan, viz., gratuity for its employees. Under the gratuity plan, every employee who has completed at least five years (one year in case of fixed term employees) of service gets a gratuity on departure @ 15 days of last drawn salary for each completed year of service. The scheme is funded with an insurance company in the form of qualifying insurance policy.

Risks Associated with Plan Provisions

Valuations are based on certain assumptions which are dynamic in nature and vary over time. As such Company is exposed to various risks as follows:

Salary Increases	The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated with the assumption of salary increase rate of plan participants in future. Deviation in the rate of increase of salary in future for plan participants from the rate of increase in salary used to determine the present value of obligation will have a bearing on the plan's liability.
Investment Risk	The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated using a discount rate determined by reference to Government Bonds Yield. If the plan liability is funded and return on plan assets is below this rate it will create a plan deficit.
Discount Rate Risk	The discount rate reflects the time value of money. An increase in discount rate leads to decrease in Defined Benefit Obligation of the plan benefits & vice versa.
Mortality & Disability	The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated by reference to the best estimate of the mortality of plan participants. For this report we have used Indian Assured Lives Mortality (2012-14) ultimate table. A change in mortality rate will have a bearing on the plan's liability.
Liquidity Risk	Employees with high salaries and long durations or those higher in hierarchy, accumulate significant level of benefits. If some of such employees resign/retire from the company there can be strain on the cashflows.
Legislative Risk	Gratuity Benefit must comply with the requirements of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 (as amended up-to-date). There is a risk of change in the regulations requiring higher gratuity payments.

39. Financial Instruments and Fair Value Measurements

Accounting Policy

(i) Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

(A) Financial Assets

Initial Recognition & Measurement

Financial Assets are recognised when the Company becomes a party to contractual provisions of Financial Instrument.

Financial assets are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to acquisition of financial assets (other than financial assets at fair value through Profit or Loss) are added to fair value of financial assets. Transaction costs directly attributable to acquisition of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in statement of Profit and Loss.

Subsequent Measurement

i. Debt Instruments at Amortised Cost– A 'debt instrument' is measured at amortised cost if both of the following conditions are met:

- The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and
- Contractual terms of asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are Solely Payments of Principal and Interest (SPPI) on principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such Financial Assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using Effective Interest Rate (EIR) method. All other debt instruments are measured at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI) or Fair Value through Profit and Loss (FVTPL) based on the Company's business model.

ii. Equity Investments – All equity investments in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value. Equity instruments which are held for trading are classified as at fair value through Profit and Loss (FVTPL). For all other equity instruments, the Company decides to classify the same either as at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI) or Fair Value through Profit and Loss (FVTPL) on an instrument to instrument basis.

iii. Mutual Funds – All mutual funds in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI).

Impairment of Financial Assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies Expected Credit Loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on financial assets that are debt instruments, and are measured at amortised cost e.g., Loans, Debt Securities, Deposits and Trade Receivables or any contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset that result from transactions that are within scope of Ind AS 115.

The Company follows 'Simplified Approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on trade receivables. Application of simplified approach recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECL at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Company determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, the Company reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12 month ECL.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the year is recognized under the head 'Other Expenses' in the statement of Profit and Loss. The Balance Sheet presentation for various financial instruments is described below:

i. Financial assets measured as at amortised cost: ECL is presented as an allowance, i.e., as an integral part of the measurement of those assets in the Balance Sheet. This allowance reduces the net carrying amount.

ii. Debt instruments measured at FVTPL: Since financial assets are already reflected at fair value, impairment allowance is not further reduced from its value. Change in fair value is taken to the statement of Profit and Loss.

iii. Debt instruments measured at FVTOCI: Since financial assets are already reflected at Fair Value, impairment allowance is not further reduced from its value. Rather, ECL amount is presented as 'Accumulated Impairment Amount' in the Other Comprehensive Income (OCI). The Company does not have any Purchased or Originated Credit Impaired (POCI) financial assets, i.e., financial assets which are credit impaired on purchase/origination.

De-Recognition of Financial Assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognised (i.e. removed from the Company's Balance Sheet) when:

i. The rights to receive cash flows from asset has expired, or

ii. The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass through' arrangement; and either

(a) The Company has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of the asset, or

(b) The Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates, if and to what extent it has retained risks and rewards of ownership.

When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Company continues to recognise transferred asset to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement. In that case, the Company also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects rights and obligations that the Company has retained.

(B) Financial Liabilities

Initial Recognition and Measurement

Financial liabilities are classified at initial recognition as

- Financial liabilities at fair value through Profit or Loss
- Loans and Borrowings
- Payables

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and in case of loans and borrowings and payables, they are recognised net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Company's financial liabilities include Loans and Borrowings including Bank Overdraft, Trade Payable, Trade Deposits, Retention Money, Lease Liabilities, other Liabilities towards Services and Other Payables.

Financial Liabilities are classified as at amortised cost.

Subsequent Measurement

Subsequent to initial recognition, measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

i. Financial liabilities at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL): Financial liabilities at Fair Value through profit or loss include financial liabilities held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through statement of profit and loss. Financial liabilities are classified as held for trading if they are incurred for purpose of repurchasing in near term.

ii. Gains or losses on liabilities held for trading are recognised in the statement of profit and loss. Financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition at fair value through statement of profit and loss are designated as such at the initial date of recognition, and only if criteria in Ind AS 109 are satisfied. For liabilities designated as FVTPL, fair value gains/losses attributable to changes in own credit risk is recognized in OCI. These gains/losses are not subsequently transferred to statement of profit and loss. However, the Company may transfer cumulative gain or loss within equity. All other changes in fair value of such liability are recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

iii. Loans and Borrowings: After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the Effective Interest Rate (hereinafter referred as EIR) method. Gains and Losses are recognised in statement of profit and loss when liabilities are derecognised as well as through EIR amortisation process. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of EIR. EIR amortisation is included as Finance Costs in the statement of profit and loss.

De-Recognition of Financial Liabilities

A Financial Liability is de-recognised when obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. Consequently, write back of unsettled credit balances is done on the previous experience of Management and actual facts of each case and recognised in Other Operating Income if arising during normal course of business. When an existing Financial Liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. Difference in respective carrying amounts is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(C) Derivative Financial Instruments

In some cases, Company uses derivative financial instruments, such as forward currency contracts and interest rate swaps to hedge its foreign currency risks and interest rate risks. Derivative financial instruments are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at their fair value at the end of each period. Method of recognizing resulting gain or loss depends on whether derivative is designated as a hedging instrument, and if so, on nature of item being hedged. Any gains or losses arising from changes in fair value of derivatives are taken directly to statement of profit and loss.

(D) Offsetting of Financial Instruments

Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities are offset and net amount is reported in the Balance Sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise assets and settle liabilities simultaneously.

Company's businesses are subject to several risks and uncertainties including financial risks. Company's documented risk management polices, act as an effective tool in mitigating various financial risks to which business is exposed to in course of their daily operations. Risk management policies cover areas such as liquidity risk, commodity price risk, foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, counterparty and concentration of credit risk and capital management.

Company's senior management oversees management of these risks. Senior professionals working to manage financial risks and appropriate financial risk governance framework for Company are accountable to Board of Directors and Audit Committee. This process provides assurance to Company's senior management that Company's financial risk-taking activities are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and that financial risk are identified, measured and managed in accordance with Company policies and Company risk objective.

(ii) Equity Instruments and Mutual Funds Designated at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI)

The Company holds the equity instruments primarily as strategic minority interests and for liquidity-related purposes. None of these instruments were acquired with the intention of resale in the near term, and therefore they do not qualify as "held for trading" under Ind AS 109. The irrevocable FVOCI designation allows fair value changes to be reflected in comprehensive income without creating volatility in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(a) Irrevocable Election - Equity Instruments

The Company holds equity investments in certain listed entities which are not held for trading purposes. In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company has at the date of initial recognition of each instrument, irrevocably elected to present subsequent changes in the fair value of these equity investments in Other Comprehensive Income (OCI). This election was made on an instrument-by-instrument basis and is irrevocable. These instruments are not subject to impairment assessment under the ECL model. On disposal of such investments, the cumulative fair value gains or losses recognised in OCI are reclassified to retained earnings and are not recycled through the Statement of Profit and Loss. Refer Note 7 for Investment in Equity Shares designated at FVTOCI.

(b) Irrevocable Election - Mutual Funds

The Company also holds units in mutual fund schemes. In accordance with the Company's accounting policy, these have been designated at FVOCI. The Company has evaluated its investments in mutual fund units under the contractual cash flow characteristics test prescribed by Ind AS 109. As units of mutual fund schemes represent residual interests in pooled investment vehicles and do not give rise to contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest, they do not meet the SPPI criterion applicable to debt instruments. Accordingly, the Company has exercised the irrevocable election to classify such investments at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVTOCI). The election was made at the time of initial investment and is irrevocable for each scheme. Any prospective reclassification to Fair Value through Profit or Loss (FVTPL) is not expected to have a material impact on the financial statements.

Refer Note No. 7 for Investment in Mutual Funds designated at FVTOCI.

(c) Movement in FVOCI Reserve (Equity Instruments and Mutual Funds)

The FVOCI reserve as reflected in the Statement of Changes in Equity incorporates the cumulative unrealised fair value gains and losses on all designated equity instruments and mutual funds from the date of initial designation. The reserve as at 31st March 2026 stands at ₹ (9.93) million (net of deferred tax) [Previous year: ₹ (10.23) million (net of deferred tax)], included within "Other Comprehensive Income — Equity Instruments through Other Comprehensive Income" in the Statement of Changes in Equity (Note 17). This reserve represents the cumulative net unrealised loss since initial designation, primarily attributable to the fair value decline in Jaypee Infratech Limited and Technofab Engineering Limited, which are now effectively nil in value, partly offset by gains in other equity and the mutual fund holdings.

Refer Note 17 (f) for Movement in Other Comprehensive Income in Other Equity.

(d) Dividend Income on FVOCI Equity Instruments

Dividends received on equity instruments designated at FVOCI are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss (Other Income) when the right to receive payment is established. The Company received dividend income of ₹0.11 million during the year ended 31st March 2026 (previous year ₹0.08 million) from such designated equity instruments. These dividends were not received as a return of the cost of investment.

(iii) Fair Value Measurements

The Company measures financial instruments at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Fair value measurement is based on presumption that transaction to sell asset or transfer liability takes place either:

i. In the principal market for asset or liability, or

ii. In absence of a principal market, in most advantageous market for asset or liability. The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible to the Company.

Fair Value of an asset or liability is measured using assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole.

Level 1- Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2- Valuation techniques for which lowest level input that is significant to fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable.

Level 3- Valuation techniques for which lowest level input that is significant to fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to fair value measurement as a whole) at end of each reporting period.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

Other Fair Value related disclosures are given in the relevant notes.

Carrying amounts of Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities in each category are as follows: (₹ in Million)

(a) Carrying amount of Trade Receivables, Trade Payables, other current financial assets, other current financial liabilities and Cash & Cash Equivalent are considered to be the same as their Fair Value due to interest fees, short term nature expected to be settled within 12 months.

The carrying amounts of other short-term financial assets and liabilities approximate their fair values due to their short maturities. In respect of non-current borrowings and lease liabilities, the carrying amounts are considered to approximate fair values as these instruments are either at floating rates or have been contracted/repriced at rates broadly aligned with prevailing market rates at the reporting date. Accordingly, no material differences between carrying amounts and fair values are considered to exist.

(b) Carrying amount of Financial Assets and Liabilities carried at Amortized Cost is considered a reasonable approximation of Fair Value.

(c) Above table excludes Investment in Associate which are measured at cost in accordance with Ind AS 27, 'Separate Financial Statements'.

(d) Loans to Employees and KMP

The Company extends interest-free loans to employees and Key Managerial Personnel under its staff welfare policy. These loans are short-term in nature (repayable within the service tenure of the employee) and individually immaterial. The Company has assessed that the notional benefit element (difference between fair value at a market interest rate and the interest-free carrying amount) is not material at the financial statement level. Accordingly, carrying amount is considered to be a reasonable approximation of fair value.

(e) Security Deposits Paid

Security and rental deposits paid to lessors and counterparties represent refundable deposits held for the duration of lease or service contracts. They bear no interest and may have tenures of 1 to 10 years. Under Ind AS 109, these are recognised at fair value at initial recognition and subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

(iii) Fair Value Hierarchy:

This section explains the judgments and estimates made in determining fair values of financial instruments that are (a) recognized and measured at fair value and (b) measured at amortized cost and for which fair values are disclosed in financial statements. To provide an indication about reliability of inputs used in determining fair value, Company has classified its financial instruments into three levels prescribed under accounting standard. An explanation of each level follows underneath the table:

Fair value of financial instruments as referred to in note above has been classified into three categories depending on inputs used in valuation technique. Hierarchy gives highest priority to quoted prices in active market for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurement) and lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 measurements).

The categories used are as follows:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: The fair value of Financial Instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques which maximize the use of observable market data relied as little as possible on entity specific estimates.

Level 3: If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

(i) Equity instruments are publicly traded on NSE/BSE and are classified at Level 1 using quoted market prices (unadjusted) at the balance sheet date. (ii) Mutual fund units are unquoted. Their NAV is determined by the respective fund houses on a daily basis using observable market prices of the underlying securities. Since the NAV is directly and indirectly observable, these instruments are classified at Level 2. (iii) There are no financial instruments measured at fair value at Level 3 as at 31st March, 2026 or 31st March, 2025. Accordingly, no Level 3 roll-forward or sensitivity analysis is required. (iv) During both reporting periods, there were no transfers between Level 1, Level 2, or Level 3.

Company's policy is to recognize transfers into and transfer out of fair value hierarchy levels as at the end of the reporting period.

During the year ended 31st March, 2026 and 31st March, 2025 there were no transfers between level 1 and level 2 fair value measurements and no transfer into and out of level 3 fair value measurement.

Valuation Processes for Level 3 Instruments

The Company's finance function, under the supervision of the Executive Director (Finance) and CFO, is responsible for determining the fair value of security deposits at each reporting date. Fair valuation is determined based on the present value of future cash flows, wherein the cash flows comprise the contractual repayment amounts of the deposits. The discount rate applied is the Company's incremental borrowing rate for a similar tenor, derived from prevailing working capital borrowing arrangements with its bankers. As this input is entity-specific and not directly observable in active markets, the valuation is classified under Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy.

40. Financial Risk Management Objectives and policies

The Company's principal financial liabilities, other than derivatives, comprise loans and borrowings and trade and other payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Company's operations and to provide guarantees to support its operations. The Company's principal financial assets include loans, trade and other receivables, and cash and cash equivalents that derive directly from its operations. The Company also holds FVTPL investments and enters into derivative transactions.

- Currency Risk
- Price Risk
- Commodity Price Risk
- Interest Rate Risk
- Liquidity Risk
- Credit Risk

Above risks may affect Company's income and expenses, or value of its financial instruments. Company's exposure to and management of these risks are explained below:

(b) Currency Risk - Sensitivity to Risk:

Following table demonstrates sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in USD, EUR, AUD exchange rates, with all other variables held constant. Impact on company profit before tax is due to changes in fair value of monetary assets and liabilities. Foreign currency exposures recognized by Company that have not been hedged by a derivative instrument or otherwise are as under:

(₹ in Million)

Currency Risk due to receivables net of payable in Nepali Rupees (NPR):

Since exchange rate between INR and NPR is fixed , impact on company profit before tax due to change in exchange rate is negligible. Remittances from Nepal, are subject to fulfilment of certain conditions imposed by the local Government at Nepal.

The Company uses derivative instruments such as forward exchange contracts and interest rate swaps for risk management purposes and accounts for them at fair value through profit or loss. However, there were no derivative contracts outstanding as at the reporting date (previous year: Nil) and accordingly, no related notional or fair value disclosures are presented.

(c) Price Risk - Potential Impact of Risk & Management Policy

(i) Company is exposed to price risk due to its investment in Equity Shares & Mutual Funds. Price risk arises due to uncertainties about future market values of these investments.

(e) Commodity Price Risk - Potential Impact of Risk & Management Policy

The Company is affected by the price volatility of certain commodities. Its operating activities require the ongoing manufacture of industrial and domestic cable and therefore require a continuous supply of major items of raw material viz Copper and Aluminium. Due to volatility in prices of Copper and Aluminium, Company has entered into various purchase contracts for these materials. The Company's Board of Directors has adopted a risk management strategy regarding commodity price risk and its mitigation. The Company partly mitigated the risk of price volatility by entering into the contract for purchase of these raw material based on average price of each month.

Following table demonstrates sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in inventory due to volatility in prices of Copper and Aluminium.

(f) Interest Rate Risk - Potential Impact of Risk & Management Policy

(i) Company invests in fixed deposits for a period between 8 days to 7 years. All fixed deposits are with banks, accordingly there is no significant interest rate risk pertaining to these deposits.

(ii) Interest rate risk is the risk that fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. Company's exposure to risk of changes in market interest rates relates primarily to the Company's long-term debt obligations with floating interest rates and fixed deposits. Company's fixed rate borrowings and deposits are carried at amortized cost. They are therefore not subject to interest rate risk as defined in Ind AS 107, since neither carrying amount nor future cash flows will fluctuate because of a change in market interest rates. The Company also uses interest rate swap to mitigate the interest rate risk.

(iii) Risk is managed by Company by maintaining an appropriate mix between fixed and floating rate of borrowings.

(₹ in Million)

Particulars	31st March, 2026	31st March, 2025
Variable rate borrowings	220.00	510.03

Refer Note 18 for maturities of Company borrowings.

(g) Interest Rate Risk – Sensitivity:

(h) Credit Risk

(i) Credit risk refers to risk that counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to Company.

(ii) Company is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily Trade Receivables, Contract Assets, Loan and security deposit and also from its investing activities including deposits with banks, forex transactions and other financial instruments) for receivables, cash and cash equivalents, short-term investments and derivative financial instruments. Credit limits are set based on a counterparty value. Methodology used to set list of counterparty limits includes, counterparty Credit Ratings (CR) and sector exposure. Evolution of counterparties is monitored regularly, taking into consideration CR and sector exposure evolution. As a result of this review, changes on credit limits and risk allocation are carried out.

(iii) In respect of its investments, Company aims to minimize its financial credit risk through application of risk management policies.

(iv) For financial instruments, Company attempts to limit credit risk by only dealing with reputed banks and financial institutions.

(v) None of Company's cash equivalents, including fixed deposits with banks, are past due or impaired.

(vi) Trade receivables and contract assets are subject to defined credit limits, approval processes, and ongoing monitoring controls. Credit limits are established based on each customer's credit profile and prevailing market conditions, and are reviewed periodically to reflect changes in customer creditworthiness. Given the Company's diversified customer base and broad geographical presence, exposure to concentration of credit risk is not significant.

The Company recognises impairment on trade receivables and contract assets in accordance with the Expected Credit Loss (ECL) model under Ind AS 109. Lifetime ECL is applied to trade receivables, and 12-month ECL is applied to contract assets.

As a practical expedient the Company has adopted 'Simplified Approach' using the provision matrix method for recognition of expected loss on trade receivables. The provision matrix is based on three years rolling average default rates observed over the expected life of the trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. These average default rates are applied on total credit risk exposure on trade receivables and outstanding for more than one year at the reporting date to determine lifetime Expected Credit Losses.

Provisions for doubtful receivables are determined on both an individual and collective basis, taking into account customer ageing, category, specific credit circumstances, and the financial condition and repayment capacity of customers. Where receivables are identified as impaired, the Company actively pursues recovery and enforces compliance with agreed credit terms. In addition to historical loss patterns, the Company incorporates forward-looking inputs into its impairment assessment, including expected delays in collections, changes in customer credit risk, and relevant macroeconomic and sector-specific developments. This assessment is performed across all business segments, having regard to the nature of operations, demand outlook, and the financial strength of customers. Customers exhibiting signs of financial stress are closely monitored, and appropriate risk mitigation measures are undertaken. These may include revision of credit terms, discounting of receivables with partial recourse, or, where necessary, recognition of revenue only upon receipt of consideration from customers.

The Company applies the Expected Credit Loss (ECL) model to contract assets based on their short-term nature. As contract assets primarily represent unbilled revenue that is created and realised within the same operating cycle, the Company considers 12-month ECL to be appropriate. Accordingly, given the limited credit risk exposure over the short duration, no material difference between 12-month and lifetime ECL is expected.

In certain cases, the Company enters into channel financing arrangements involving the sale of trade receivables to financing institutions. Where receivables are transferred without recourse and the Company neither retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership nor retains control over the financial assets, such receivables are derecognised upon transfer in accordance with Ind AS 109. These transactions generally do not give rise to material gains or losses in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Where receivables are transferred with recourse, the Company retains substantially all risks and rewards, primarily credit risk. Such receivables continue to be recognised in the Statement of Financial Position, and the consideration received is classified as a financial liability. Under these arrangements, customers remit payments directly to the financing institution, which in turn adjusts the Company's utilised credit facility accordingly.

For Ageing of Trade Receivables and Movement of Expected Credit Loss Refer Note 12.

(vii) Company assesses and manages credit risk of Financial Assets based on following categories arrived on basis of assumptions, inputs and factors specific to class of Financial Assets.

Information Other than the Consolidated Financial Statements and Auditor's Report thereon

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexure to Board's Report, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above, when it becomes available, compare with the consolidated financial statements and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the other information, if we conclude, that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance as required under SA 720 'The Auditor's responsibilities Relating to Other Information'.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view of the consolidated state of affairs, consolidated financial profit/loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated changes in equity and consolidated cash flows of the Company including its Associate in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. The respective Management and Board of Directors the Company and of its Associate are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company, its Associate and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; the selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements by the Board of Directors of the Company, as aforesaid.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the respective Management and Board of Directors of the Company and its Associate are responsible for assessing the ability of the Company and its Associate to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless respective Board of Directors either intends to liquidate or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The respective Board of Directors of the Company and its Associate are responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of the Company and its Associate.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of Management and Board of Directors use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the appropriateness of this assumption. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company and its Associate to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Company and its Associate to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the consolidated financial statements of such entity included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion. Our responsibilities in this regard are further described in paragraph (a) of the section titled "Other Matter" in this audit report.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Company regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

ANNEXURE "A" TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Act

Referred to in paragraph 1(f) of the Independent Auditors' Report of even date to the members of KEI INDUSTRIES LIMITED on the Consolidated Financial Statements for the year ended 31st March, 2026.

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the Company as of and for the year ended 31st March, 2026, we have audited the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements of KEI INDUSTRIES LIMITED (hereinafter referred to as "Company"), as of that date. Report on the Internal Financial Controls with reference to financial statements under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Act is not applicable to Associate which is a company not incorporated in India.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Management and Board of Directors of the Company are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("the ICAI)". These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the Standards on Auditing, prescribed under Section 143(10) Act., to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system with reference to consolidated financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company internal financial controls system with reference to consolidated financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to consolidated financial statements

A company's internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of consolidated financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the consolidated financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to consolidated financial statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system with reference to consolidated financial statements and such internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements were operating effectively as at 31st March, 2026, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI".

2.6 Significant Management Judgements in applying Accounting Policies and Estimation Uncertainty

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated. They are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that may have a financial impact on the Company and that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Although these estimates and assumptions used in accompanying financial statements are based upon management's evaluation of relevant facts and circumstances as of date of financial statements which in management's opinion are prudent and reasonable, actual results may differ from estimates and assumptions used in preparing accompanying financial statements.

Any revision to accounting estimates is recognized prospectively from the period in which results are known/ materialise in accordance with applicable Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS). Information about estimates and assumptions that have the most significant effect on recognition and measurement of assets, liabilities, income and expenses is provided below.

A. Significant Management Judgements

Following are Significant Management Judgements in applying Accounting Policies of the Company that have most significant effect on the Financial Statements.

I. Evaluation of Indicators for Impairment of Assets

The evaluation of applicability of indicators of impairment of assets requires assessment of several external and internal factors which could result in deterioration of recoverable amount of assets.

II. Revenue from contracts with customers

Certain contracts of the Company for sale of goods and services include discounts, rebates & Incentives that give rise to variable consideration. The Company determined that estimates of variable consideration are based on its historical experience, business forecast and current economic conditions. The Company determined that expected value method is appropriate method to use in estimating the variable consideration as the large number of customer contracts that have similar characteristics.

B. Estimation uncertainty

Information about estimates and assumptions that have most significant effect on recognition and measurement of assets, liabilities, income and expenses is provided below:

I. Revenue Recognition

Where revenue contracts include deferred payment terms, management of the Company determines fair value of consideration receivable using the expected collection period and incremental rate of borrowing interest rate prevailing at the date of transaction.

II. Cost to Complete

The Company's management estimate the cost to complete for each project for the purpose of revenue recognition and recognition of anticipated losses of the projects, if any. In the process of calculating the cost to complete, management conducts regular and systematic reviews of actual results and future projections with comparison against budget. The process requires monitoring controls including financial and operational controls and identifying major risks facing the Company and developing and implementing initiative to manage those risks. The Company's management is confident that the costs to complete the project are fairly estimated.

III. Useful lives of property, plant and equipment

The Company reviews the useful life of property, plant and equipment at the end of each reporting period. This reassessment may result in change in depreciation expense in current and future periods.

IV. Fair Value Measurement of Financial Instrument

When fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the balance sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using various valuation techniques. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as Liquidity Risk, Credit Risk and Volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect reported fair value of financial instruments.

V. Impairment of Financial Assets

Impairment provisions of financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The Company uses judgement in making these assumptions and selecting inputs to the impairment calculation, based on Company's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

VI. Impairment of Investments In Associates

Determining whether the investments in associates are impaired requires an estimate in the value in use of investments. In considering the value in use, the directors have anticipated the future market conditions and other parameters that affect the operations of these entities.

VII. Inventories

The Company estimates net realisable values of inventories, taking into account the most reliable evidence available at each reporting date. The future realisation of these inventories may be affected by future technology or other market driven changes that may reduce future selling prices.

VIII. Recoverability of Advances / Receivables

The Company from time to time reviews the recoverability of advances and receivables. Review is done at least once in a financial year and such assessment requires significant management judgement based on financial position of the counter-parties, market information and other relevant factors.

IX. Provisions for Warranties

Warranty provisions are determined based on the historical percentage of warranty expense to sales for the same types of goods for which the warranty is currently being determined. The same percentage to the sales is applied for the current accounting period to derive the warranty expense to be accrued. It is very unlikely that actual warranty claims will exactly match the historical warranty percentage, so such estimates are reviewed annually for any material changes in assumptions and likelihood of occurrence.

X. Income Tax and Deferred Tax

Uncertainties exist with respect to the interpretation of complex tax regulations, changes in tax laws, and the amount and timing of future taxable income. Given the wide range of business relationships and the long term nature and complexity of existing contractual agreements, differences arising between actual results and assumptions made, or future changes to such assumptions, could necessitate future adjustments to tax income and expense already recorded. The Company establishes provisions, based on reasonable estimates. The amount of such provisions is based on various factors, such as experience of previous tax audits and differing interpretations of tax regulations.

A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and tax losses can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilised. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies. Accordingly, the Company exercises its judgement to reassess the carrying amount of deferred tax assets at the end of each reporting period.

XI. Provisions and Contingencies

Management judgement is required for estimating the possible outflow of resources, if any, in respect of contingencies/claim/litigations against the Company as it is not possible to predict the outcome of pending matters with accuracy.

XII. Defined Benefit Obligation (DBO)

Management's estimate of the DBO is based on a number of critical underlying assumptions such as standard rates of inflation, mortality, discount rate and anticipation of future salary increases. Variation in these assumptions may impact the DBO amount and the annual defined benefit expenses.

2.7 Exceptional Items

Exceptional items are transactions which due to their size or incidence are separately disclosed to enable a full understanding of the Company's financial performance. Items which may be considered exceptional are significant restructuring charges, gains or losses on disposal of investments of associates and impairment losses/ write down in the value of investment in associates and significant disposal of fixed assets.

2.8 Recent Pronouncement

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendment Rules, 2025 on 13th August 2025, introducing amendments to, inter alia, Ind AS 1, Ind AS 7, Ind AS 12, Ind AS 107 and Ind AS 101, applicable for accounting periods beginning on or after 1st April 2025.

These amendments primarily relate to

(i) clarification on classification of liabilities as current or non-current, including those with covenants,

(ii) enhanced disclosure requirements for supplier finance arrangements, and

(iii) introduction of a temporary exception and related disclosures in respect of Pillar Two income taxes.

The Company has evaluated the impact of the aforesaid amendments and concluded that there is no material impact on the recognition and measurement of amounts reported in the Consolidated Financial statements; however, the Company has provided additional disclosures, wherever required, in compliance with the amended standards.

2.9 The material accounting policies used in preparation of the Consolidated Financial statements have been disclosed in the respective notes.

3. Property, Plant and Equipment

Accounting Policy

Freehold land is carried at historical cost. Property, Plant and Equipment are stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Cost of Property, Plant and Equipment comprises its purchase price net of any trade discounts and rebates, any import duties and other taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from the tax authorities), any directly attributable expenditure on making asset ready for its intended use, including relevant borrowing costs for qualifying assets and any expected costs of decommissioning.

Borrowing Cost attributable to acquisition, construction of qualifying assets is capitalized until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use. Indirect expenses during construction period, which are required to bring the asset in the condition and location for its intended use by the management and are directly attributable to bringing the asset to its position, are also capitalised.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and cost of the item can be measured reliably.

Expenditure incurred after Property, Plant and Equipment have been put into operation, such as repairs and maintenance, are charged to Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which costs are incurred.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of Property, Plant and Equipment outstanding at each Balance Sheet date is classified as capital advances under other non-current assets.

An item of Property, Plant and Equipment and any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. 5. Right of Use Assets

Accounting Policy

Ind AS 116 requires lessees to determine the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease adjusted with any option to extend or terminate the lease, if the use of such option is reasonably certain. The Company makes an assessment on the expected lease term on a lease-by-lease basis and thereby assesses whether it is reasonably certain that any options to extend or terminate the contract will be exercised. The lease term in future periods is reassessed to ensure that the lease term reflects the current economic circumstances. After considering current and future economic conditions, the company has concluded that no material changes are required to lease period relating to the existing lease contracts. Lease liability and ROU assets have been separately presented in the Balance Sheet and lease payments have been classified as financing cash flows.

Company as a Lessee

The company recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received.

The right-of-use asset is subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain re-measurements of the lease liability.

Finance lease

The Company has entered into land lease arrangement at various locations. Terms of such lease ranges from 75-99 years. In case of lease of land for 90 years and above, it is likely that such leases meet the criteria that at the inception of the lease the present value of the minimum lease payments amounts to at least substantially all of the fair value of the leased asset. Accordingly, the Company has classified leasehold land as finance leases applying Ind AS 17/ Ind AS 116. For such leases, the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset at the date of initial application of Ind AS 116 is the carrying amount of the lease asset on the transition date as measured applying Ind AS 17.

Leasehold land is amortised on a straight line basis over the unexpired period of their respective lease ranging from 75-99 years. Leasehold improvements are depreciated on straight line basis over their initial agreement period.

Others:

The following is the summary of practical expedients elected on initial application:

(a) Applied a single discount rate to a portfolio of leases of similar assets in similar economic environment with a similar end date.

(b) Applied the exemption not to recognise right-of-use assets and liabilities for short term leases, variable lease and leases of low value assets.

(c) Excluded the initial direct costs from the measurement of the right-of-use asset at the date of initial application.

7. Investments

Accounting Policy

(i) Investments in Associate

An associate is an entity over which the KEI has significant influence. Significant influence is power to participate in financial and operating policy decisions of investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

Investment in associates are carried at cost as per Ind AS 27. Cost comprises price paid to acquire investment and directly attributable cost.

The KEI's investments in its associate are accounted for using the equity method. Under the equity method, the investment in an associate is initially recognized at cost. The carrying amount of the investment is adjusted to recognize changes in the Company's share of net assets of the associate or joint venture since the acquisition date.

The Consolidated statement of profit and loss reflects the KEI's share of the results of operations of the associate. Any change in OCI of those investees is presented as part of the Company's OCI. In addition, when there has been a change recognized directly in the equity of the associate, the Company recognizes its share of any changes, when applicable, in the Consolidated statement of changes in equity. If Company's share of losses of an associate equal or exceeds its interest in the associate (which includes any long term interest that, in substance, form part of the Company's net investment in the associate, the Company discontinues recognising its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognized only to the extent that the Company has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate. If the associate subsequently reports profits, the Company resumes recognising its share of those profits only after its share of the profits equals the share of losses not recognized. The aggregate of the Company's share of profit or loss of an associate is shown on the face of the statement of profit and loss. The financial statements of the associate are prepared for the same reporting period as the Company. When necessary, adjustments are made to bring the accounting policies in line with those of the Company. After application of the equity method, the Company determines whether it is necessary to recognize an impairment loss on its investment in its associate. At each reporting date, the Company determines whether there is objective evidence that the investment in the associate is impaired. If there is such evidence, the Company calculates the amount of impairment as the difference between the recoverable amount of the associate and its carrying value, and then recognizes the loss as 'Share of profit of an associate in the consolidated statement of profit or loss. Upon loss of significant influence over the associate, the Company measures and recognizes any retained investment at its fair value. Any difference between the carrying amount of the associate upon loss of significant influence or joint control and the fair value of the retained investment less cost to sell is recognized in profit or loss. The Company discontinues the use of equity method from the date the investment is classified as held for sale in accordance with Ind AS 105 - Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations and measures the interest in associate held for sale at the lower of its carrying amount and fair value less cost to sell.

(ii) Investments at Fair Value through OCI

Investments in Mutual funds and in Equity Instruments of other companies are classified as Investments at Fair Value through OCI, as these investments are held with objective of collection of contractual cashflows and subsequent selling of these investments.

12. Trade Receivables:

Accounting Policy

Trade receivables represent Company's right to an amount of consideration that is unconditional (i.e. only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due). Trade Receivables are generally non-interest bearing and are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at cost less provision for impairment.

As a practical expedient the Company has adopted 'Simplified Approach' using the provision matrix method for recognition of expected loss on trade receivables. The provision matrix is based on three years rolling average default rates observed over the expected life of the trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. These average default rates are applied on total credit risk exposure on trade receivables and outstanding for more than one year at the reporting date to determine lifetime Expected Credit Losses.

15. Income Taxes:

Accounting Policy

Current Income Tax assets and liabilities are measured at amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside Profit and Loss is also recognised outside profit and loss (either in Other Comprehensive Income or in Equity). Current tax items are recognised in correlation to underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate. Tax expense for the year comprises of current tax and deferred tax.

The tax jurisdiction of the Company is India. Further, the Company periodically receives notices and inquiries from Indian income tax authorities related to the Company's operations. The Company has evaluated these notices and inquiries and has concluded that any consequent income tax claims or demands, if any, by the income tax authorities will not succeed on ultimate resolution.

The Government of India has enacted new income tax legislation (Income tax Act, 2025) effective from Tax Year 1st April, 2026. Company has evaluated the implications of this change on its Current and Deferred Tax positions. Based on the assessment, the Company does not expect any material impact on its financial Statements.

(E) Deferred Tax

Accounting Policy

Deferred Income Taxes are calculated using Balance Sheet Approach, on temporary differences between tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except when it is probable that temporary differences will not reverse in foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences and carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which deductible temporary differences and carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilized.

Carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and same taxation authority.

(h) Employee stock Option Plan (ESOP):

Accounting Policy

The Company operates equity-settled share-based payment plans for eligible employees. Fair Value of options granted under this option plan is recognised as an employee benefit expense over the vesting period with corresponding increase in other equity (Employee Stock Options Outstanding) in accordance with recognition and measurement principles as per Ind AS 102 "Share Based Payments". The fair value of options granted is determined at the grant date using an appropriate valuation model (Black-Scholes), taking into account terms and conditions upon which the options were granted, including market-based performance conditions. Market-based conditions are considered on the grant date fair value and are not subsequently revised. Options that do not vest due to failure to satisfy performance and service conditions are not recognised. At each reporting date, the Company revises its estimates of the number of options expected to vest based on performance and service conditions and recognises the impact of such revisions in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Total expense is recognised over the vesting period, which is period over which all of specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied. At end of the reporting period, the company revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to vest based on the non-market vesting and service conditions. It recognises impact of revision to original estimates, if any, in profit and loss, with corresponding adjustment to equity.

No expense is recognised for options that do not ultimately vest because performance and/or service conditions have not been met. In case of modification of terms, any incremental fair value is recognised over the remaining vesting period. In case of cancellation or settlement, the unrecognised expense is recognised immediately in profit and loss.

The dilutive effect, if any of outstanding options is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of diluted earnings per share in accordance with Ind AS 33.

- Variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate as at the commencement date;
- Amounts expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee; and
- The exercise price under a purchase option that the company is reasonably certain to exercise, lease payments in an optional renewal period if the company is reasonably certain to exercise an extension option, and penalties for early termination of a lease unless the company is reasonably certain not to terminate early.

Lease liability is measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. It is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or rate, if there is a change in the company's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, or if Company changes its assessment of whether it will exercise a purchase, extension or termination option.

When lease liability is re-measured in this way, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

Short-Term Leases and Leases of Low-Value Assets

The Company has elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for short- term leases of real estate properties that have a lease term upto12 months or are of low value. The company recognises the lease payments associated with these leases as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

20. Provisions

Accounting Policy

Provisions represent liabilities to the Company for which amount, or timing is uncertain. Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive), as a result of past events, and it is probable that an outflow of resources, that can be reliably estimated, will be required to settle such an obligation.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows to net present value using an appropriate pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. Unwinding of the discount is recognized in the statement of profit and loss as a finance cost.

The Company provides product warranties and does not sell the warranty separately to its customers. Provision for warranty-related costs is recognised when the product is sold, or service is provided to customers. Initial recognition is based on historical experience. The Company periodically reviews the adequacy of product warranties and adjusts warranty percentage and warranty provisions for actual experience, if necessary. The timing of outflow is expected to be within one to two years.

An Onerous Contract is a contract in which unavoidable costs of meeting obligations under the contract exceed economic benefits expected to be received under it. If the Company identifies a contract as an Onerous Contract, the present obligation under the contract is measured and recognised as provision.

Provisions are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. If it is no longer probable that outflow of resources would be required to settle obligation, provision is reversed.

24. Revenue from Operations

Accounting Policy

(i) Measurement of Revenue

Revenue from contracts with customers is recognised when control of the goods or services are transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services.

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, adjusted for discounts, incentive schemes, if any, as per contracts with customers. Taxes collected from customers on behalf of Government are not treated as Revenue.

(ii) Engineering, Procurement and Construction (EPC) Projects

Performance obligation in case of revenue from long - term contracts is satisfied over the time. Since the company creates an asset that the customer controls as the asset is created and the company has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date if it meets the agreed specifications, revenue from long term contracts, where the outcome can be estimated reliably and 10% of the project cost is incurred, is recognized under the percentage of completion method by reference to the stage of completion of the contract activity. The stage of completion is measured by input method i.e. the proportion that costs incurred to date bear to the estimated total costs of a contract.

The total costs of contracts are estimated based on technical and other estimates. In case of value of uninstalled materials incurred that is not proportionate to the Company's progress in satisfying the performance obligation, revenue is to be recognised at an amount equal to the cost of a good used to satisfy a performance obligation. In the event that a loss is anticipated on a particular contract, provision is made for the estimated loss. Contract revenue earned in excess of billing is reflected under as "contract asset" and billing in excess of contract revenue is reflected under "contract liabilities". Retention money receivable from project customers does not contain any significant financing element, these are retained for satisfactory performance of contract.

(iii) Sale of Goods

Revenue from sale of goods is recognised at the point of time when control of the goods is transferred to the customer, generally on delivery of the goods. The Company considers whether there are other promises in the contract that are separate performance obligations to which a portion of the transaction price needs to be allocated (e.g., Freight and Incentive schemes). In determining the transaction price for the sale of goods, the Company considers the effects of variable consideration and consideration payable to the customer (if any).

For contracts that are CIF (Cost Insurance Freight) contracts, the revenue is recognised when the goods reached at final destination. For contracts that are FOB (Free on Board) contracts, revenue is recognised when company delivers the goods to an independent carrier.

(iv) Variable Consideration

If consideration in a contract includes a variable amount, the Company estimates amount of consideration to which it will be entitled in exchange for transferring the goods to customer. Variable Consideration is estimated at contract inception and constrained until it is highly probable that a significant revenue reversal in amount of cumulative revenue recognised will not occur when associated uncertainty with variable consideration is subsequently resolved. Some contracts for sale of manufactured goods provide customers with a right of incentives & discounts. The incentives and volume rebates give rise to variable consideration.

(a) Cash Discount which are determinable on the date of transaction, are recognised as reduction of revenue by the company.

(b) Volume Discounts, Timely Payment Incentives & Other Incentive Schemes the Company provides retrospective volume discounts to certain customers once the quantity of products purchased during the period exceed a threshold specified in the contract. Other Incentives promised by the company on achieving certain sales thresholds also a form of identifiable benefit that are identified as a separate component of the sales transaction.

In such cases, the Company estimates fair value of Incentives promised to its customers. To estimate the variable consideration for the expected future rebates and discounts, the Company applies the expected value method. The Company estimates variable consideration and recognises a refund liability for the expected future rebates. Accordingly, the company recognises lesser revenue if such discounts are probable and the amount is determinable. Any subsequent changes in the amount of such estimates are transferred to statement of profit and loss.

(c) Other Variable Considerations If the contract includes a variable consideration, the company estimates the amount it expects to receive in exchange for transferring the promised goods or services to the customer. This estimate is updated at each reporting date.

(v) Government Grant

Company receives Grant in the form of Export incentives under various schemes notified by the Government. The Export Incentives are recognised on the basis of applicable regulations, and when reasonable assurance to receive such revenue is established. Export incentives income is recognised in the statement of profit and loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Company recognises as expenses the related costs for which the assistance/incentive is intended to compensate.

In the case of Export Promotion Capital Goods ('EPCG') grant, the Company recognises the grant in the statement of profit and loss on a systematic basis over the useful life of the assets.

(vi) Significant Financing Components

Significant financing Components in respect of advance received from customers, using the practical expedient in Ind AS 115. the company does not adjust the promised amount of consideration for the effect of a significant financing component if it expects , at contract inception, that the period between transfer of the promised good or service to the customer and when the customer pays for that good or service will be within normal operating cycle. Retention money receivable from project customers does not contain any significant financing element, these are retained for satisfactory performance of contract.

(vii) Contract Balances

Contract assets are in the nature of unbilled receivables, which arises when Company satisfies a performance obligation but does not have an unconditional right to consideration. Contract assets are subject to impairment assessment.

A contract liability is the obligation to transfer goods and services for which income is received in advance. When an incentive is payable to a customer for which the revenue is already recognised by the company, the incentive so payable to the customer is also treated as Contract Liability. If a customer pays consideration before the Company transfers goods or services to the customer, i.e advance received from customer the same is recognised as contract liability. Contract liabilities are recognized as revenue when the Company performs under the contract (i.e., transfers control of the related goods or services to the customer).

25. Other Income

Accounting Policy

(i) Dividend Income

(ii) Interest Income

Interest income from debt instruments is recognised using the effective interest rate method. The effective interest rate is rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through expected life of the financial asset to gross carrying amount of a financial asset. When calculating effective interest rate, the Company estimates expected cash flows by considering all contractual terms of financial instrument but does not consider expected credit losses.

(iii) Other Income

Other claims including interest on outstanding are accounted for when there is virtual certainty of ultimate collection.

(iv) Foreign Currency Transactions and Balances

Transactions in currencies other than functional currency are translated into functional currency at exchange rates ruling at date of transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in other currencies are translated into functional currency at exchange rates prevailing on reporting date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in other currencies and measured at historical cost or fair value are not retranslated.

All exchange differences are included in the statement of profit and loss except any exchange differences on monetary items designated as an effective hedging instrument of the currency risk of designated forecasted sales or purchases, which are recognized in the Other Comprehensive Income.

For advance consideration, date of transaction for purpose of determining exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset or liability , expense or income when the Company has received or paid advance consideration in foreign currency.

Accounting Policy

(i) Short-Term Employee Benefits

Employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of receiving employee services are classified as short-term employee benefits. These benefits include salaries and wages, performance incentives and compensated absences which are expected to occur in next twelve months. The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits to be paid in exchange for employee services is recognised as an expense as related service is rendered by employees.

(ii) Compensated Absences

Company provides for encashment of accumulated leaves with pay subject to certain rules. The employees are entitled to accumulate leave subject to certain limits, for future encashment/availment. The liability is provided based on number of days of unutilized leave at each Balance Sheet date on basis of an independent actuarial valuation.

(iii) Gratuity

Liabilities with regard to gratuity benefits payable in future are determined by actuarial valuation at each Balance Sheet date using the Projected Unit Credit method and contributed to fund maintained by approved trust and administered through a separate irrevocable trust set up by the Company.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from changes in actuarial assumptions are recognized in Other Comprehensive Income.

(iv) Long Service Award

Eligible employees of the Company receive benefits from a Provident Fund, which is a defined contribution plan. Both the eligible employee and the Company make monthly contributions to provident fund plan equal to a specified percentage of covered employee's salary.

(vi) Share-Based Payments (Employees)

Fair Value of options granted under this option plan is recognised as an employee benefit expense with corresponding increase in equity in accordance with recognition and measurement principles as prescribed in Ind AS 102 Share Based Payments.

Total expense is recognised over the vesting period, which is period over which all of specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied. At end of the reporting period, the company revises its estimates of the number of options that are expected to vest based on the non-market vesting and service conditions. It recognises impact of revision to original estimates, if any, in profit and loss, with corresponding adjustment to equity.

The dilutive effect, if any, of the Outstanding options is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of diluted earnings per share (Refer Note 35).

Defined Benefit Plan- As Per Actuarial Valuation

The Company operates a defined benefit plan, viz., gratuity for its employees. Under the gratuity plan, every employee who has completed at least five years (one year in case of fixed term employees) of service gets a gratuity on departure @ 15 days of last drawn salary for each completed year of service. The scheme is funded with an insurance company in the form of qualifying insurance policy.

Risks Associated with Plan Provisions

Valuations are based on certain assumptions which are dynamic in nature and vary over time. As such Company is exposed to various risks as follows:

Salary Increases	The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated with the assumption of salary increase rate of plan participants in future. Deviation in the rate of increase of salary in future for plan participants from the rate of increase in salary used to determine the present value of obligation will have a bearing on the plan's liability.
Investment Risk	The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated using a discount rate determined by reference to Government Bonds Yield. If the plan liability is funded and return on plan assets is below this rate it will create a plan deficit.
Discount Rate Risk	The discount rate reflects the time value of money. An increase in discount rate leads to decrease in Defined Benefit Obligation of the plan benefits & vice versa.

Mortality & Disability	The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated by reference to the best estimate of the mortality of plan participants. For this report we have used Indian Assured Lives Mortality (2012-14) ultimate table. A change in mortality rate will have a bearing on the plan's liability.
Liquidity Risk	Employees with high salaries and long durations or those higher in hierarchy, accumulate significant level of benefits. If some of such employees resign/ retire from the company there can be strain on the cashflows.
Legislative Risk	Gratuity Benefit must comply with the requirements of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 (as amended up-to-date). There is a risk of change in the regulations requiring higher gratuity payments.

39. Financial Instruments and Fair Value Measurements

Accounting Policy

(i) Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

(A) Financial Assets

Initial Recognition & Measurement

Financial Assets are recognised when the Company becomes a party to contractual provisions of Financial Instrument.

Financial assets are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to acquisition of financial assets (other than financial assets at fair value through Profit or Loss) are added to fair value of financial assets. Transaction costs directly attributable to acquisition of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in statement of Profit and Loss.

Subsequent Measurement

i. Debt Instruments at Amortised Cost– A 'debt instrument' is measured at amortised cost if both of the following conditions are met:

- The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and
- Contractual terms of asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are Solely Payments of Principal and Interest (SPPI) on principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such Financial Assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using Effective Interest Rate (EIR) method. All other debt instruments are measured at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI) or Fair Value through Profit and Loss (FVTPL) based on the Company's business model.

ii. Equity Investments – All equity investments in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value. Equity instruments which are held for trading are classified as at fair value through Profit and Loss (FVTPL). For all other equity instruments, the Company decides to classify the same either as at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI) or Fair Value through Profit and Loss (FVTPL) on an instrument to instrument basis.

iii. Mutual Funds – All mutual funds in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI).

Impairment of Financial Assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies Expected Credit Loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on financial assets that are debt instruments, and are measured at amortised cost e.g., Loans, Debt Securities, Deposits and Trade Receivables or any contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset that result from transactions that are within scope of Ind AS 115.

The Company follows 'Simplified Approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on trade receivables. Application of simplified approach recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECL at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Company determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, the Company reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12 month ECL.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the year is recognized under the head 'Other Expenses' in the statement of Profit and Loss. The Balance Sheet presentation for various financial instruments is described below:

i. Financial assets measured as at amortised cost: ECL is presented as an allowance, i.e., as an integral part of the measurement of those assets in the Balance Sheet. This allowance reduces the net carrying amount.

ii. Debt instruments measured at FVTPL: Since financial assets are already reflected at fair value, impairment allowance is not further reduced from its value. Change in fair value is taken to the statement of Profit and Loss.

iii. Debt instruments measured at FVTOCI: Since financial assets are already reflected at Fair Value, impairment allowance is not further reduced from its value. Rather, ECL amount is presented as 'Accumulated Impairment Amount' in the Other Comprehensive Income (OCI). The Company does not have any Purchased or Originated Credit Impaired (POCI) financial assets, i.e., financial assets which are credit impaired on purchase/origination.

De-Recognition of Financial Assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a Company of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognised (i.e. removed from the Company's Balance Sheet) when:

i. The rights to receive cash flows from asset has expired, or

ii. The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass through' arrangement; and either

(a) The Company has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of the asset, or

(b) The Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates, if and to what extent it has retained risks and rewards of ownership.

When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Company continues to recognise transferred asset to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement. In that case, the Company also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects rights and obligations that the Company has retained.

(B) Financial Liabilities

Initial Recognition and Measurement

Financial liabilities are classified at initial recognition as

- Financial liabilities at fair value through Profit or Loss
- Loans and Borrowings
- Payables

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and in case of loans and borrowings and payables, they are recognised net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Company's financial liabilities include Loans and Borrowings including Bank Overdraft, Trade Payable, Trade Deposits, Retention Money, Lease Liabilities, other Liabilities towards Services and Other Payables.

Financial Liabilities are classified as at amortised cost. .

Subsequent Measurement.

Subsequent to initial recognition, measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

i. Financial liabilities at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL): Financial liabilities at Fair Value through profit or loss include financial liabilities held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through statement of profit and loss. Financial liabilities are classified as held for trading if they are incurred for purpose of repurchasing in near term.

ii. Gains or losses on liabilities held for trading are recognised in the statement of profit and loss. Financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition at fair value through statement of profit and loss are designated as such at the initial date of recognition, and only if criteria in Ind AS 109 are satisfied. For liabilities designated as FVTPL, fair value gains/losses attributable to changes in own credit risk is recognized in OCI. These gains/losses are not subsequently transferred to statement of profit and loss. However, the Company may transfer cumulative gain or loss within equity. All other changes in fair value of such liability are recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

iii. Loans and Borrowings: After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the Effective Interest Rate (hereinafter referred as EIR) method. Gains and Losses are recognised in statement of profit and loss when liabilities are derecognised as well as through EIR amortisation process. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of EIR. EIR amortisation is included as Finance Costs in the statement of profit and loss.

De-Recognition of Financial Liabilities

A Financial Liability is de-recognised when obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. Consequently, write back of unsettled credit balances is done on the previous experience of Management and actual facts of each case and recognised in Other Operating Income if arising during normal course of business. When an existing Financial Liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. Difference in respective carrying amounts is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(C) Derivative Financial Instruments

In some cases, Company uses derivative financial instruments, such as forward currency contracts and interest rate swaps to hedge its foreign currency risks and interest rate risks. Derivative financial instruments are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at their fair value at the end of each period. Method of recognizing resulting gain or loss depends on whether derivative is designated as a hedging instrument, and if so, on nature of item being hedged. Any gains or losses arising from changes in fair value of derivatives are taken directly to statement of profit and loss.

(D) Offsetting of Financial Instruments

Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities are offset and net amount is reported in the Balance Sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise assets and settle liabilities simultaneously.

Company's businesses are subject to several risks and uncertainties including financial risks. Company's documented risk management polices, act as an effective tool in mitigating various financial risks to which business is exposed to in course of their daily operations. Risk management policies cover areas such as liquidity risk, commodity price risk, foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, counterparty and concentration of credit risk and capital management.

Company's senior management oversees management of these risks. Senior professionals working to manage financial risks and appropriate financial risk governance framework for Company are accountable to Board of Directors and Audit Committee. This process provides assurance to Company's senior management that Company's financial risk-taking activities are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and that financial risk are identified, measured and managed in accordance with Company policies and Company risk objective.

(ii) Equity Instruments and Mutual Funds Designated at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI)

The Company holds the equity instruments primarily as strategic minority interests and for liquidity-related purposes. None of these instruments were acquired with the intention of resale in the near term, and therefore they do not qualify as "held for trading" under Ind AS 109. The irrevocable FVOCI designation allows fair value changes to be reflected in comprehensive income without creating volatility in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(a) Irrevocable Election — Equity Instruments

The Company holds equity investments in certain listed entities which are not held for trading purposes. In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company has at the date of initial recognition of each instrument, irrevocably elected to present subsequent changes in the fair value of these equity investments in Other Comprehensive Income (OCI). This election was made on an instrument-by-instrument basis and is irrevocable. These instruments are not subject to impairment assessment under the ECL model. On disposal of such investments, the cumulative fair value gains or losses recognised in OCI are reclassified to retained earnings and are not recycled through the Statement of Profit and Loss. Refer Note 7 for Investment in Equity Shares designated at FVTOCI.

(b) Irrevocable Election — Mutual Funds

The Company also holds units in mutual fund schemes. In accordance with the Company's accounting policy, these have been designated at FVOCI. The Company has evaluated its investments in mutual fund units under the contractual cash flow characteristics test prescribed by Ind AS 109. As units of mutual fund schemes represent residual interests in pooled investment vehicles and do not give rise to contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest, they do not meet the SPPI criterion applicable to debt instruments. Accordingly, the Company has exercised the irrevocable election to classify such investments at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVTOCI). The election was made at the time of initial investment and is irrevocable for each scheme. Any prospective reclassification to Fair Value through Profit or Loss (FVTPL) is not expected to have a material impact on the financial statements.

Refer Note No. 7 for Investment in Mutual Funds designated at FVTOCI.

(c) Movement in FVOCI Reserve (Equity Instruments and Mutual Funds)

The FVOCI reserve as reflected in the Statement of Changes in Equity incorporates the cumulative unrealised fair value gains and losses on all designated equity instruments and mutual funds from the date of initial designation. The reserve as at 31st March, 2026 stands at ₹ (9.93) million (net of deferred tax) [Previous year: ₹ (10.23) million (net of deferred tax)], included within "Other Comprehensive Income — Equity Instruments through Other Comprehensive Income" in the Statement of Changes in Equity (Note 17). This reserve represents the cumulative net unrealised loss since initial designation, primarily attributable to the fair value decline in Jaypee Infratech Limited and Technofab Engineering Limited, which are now effectively nil in value, partly offset by gains in other equity and the mutual fund holdings.

Refer Note 17 (f) for Movement in Other Comprehensive Income in Other Equity.

(d) Dividend Income on FVOCI Equity Instruments

Dividends received on equity instruments designated at FVOCI are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss (Other Income) when the right to receive payment is established. The Company received dividend income of ₹ 0.11 million during the year ended 31st March 2026 (previous year ₹ 0.08 million) from such designated equity instruments. These dividends were not received as a return of the cost of investment.

(iii) Fair Value Measurements

The Company measures financial instruments at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Fair value measurement is based on presumption that transaction to sell asset or transfer liability takes place either:

i. In the principal market for asset or liability, or

ii. In absence of a principal market, in most advantageous market for asset or liability. The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible to the Company.

Fair Value of an asset or liability is measured using assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole.

Level 1- Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2- Valuation techniques for which lowest level input that is significant to fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable.

Level 3- Valuation techniques for which lowest level input that is significant to fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to fair value measurement as a whole) at end of each reporting period.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

Other Fair Value related disclosures are given in the relevant notes.

Carrying amounts of Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities in each category are as follows: (₹ in Million)

(a) Carrying amount of Trade Receivables, Trade Payables, other current financial assets, other current financial liabilities and Cash & Cash Equivalent are considered to be the same as their Fair Value due to interest fees, short term nature expected to be settled within 12 months.

The carrying amounts of other short-term financial assets and liabilities approximate their fair values due to their short maturities. In respect of non-current borrowings and lease liabilities, the carrying amounts are considered to approximate fair values as these instruments are either at floating rates or have been contracted/repriced at rates broadly aligned with prevailing market rates at the reporting date. Accordingly, no material differences between carrying amounts and fair values are considered to exist.

(b) Carrying amount of Financial Assets and Liabilities carried at Amortized Cost is considered a reasonable approximation of Fair Value.

(c) Above table excludes Investment in Associate which are measured at cost in accordance with Ind AS 27, 'Separate Financial Statements'.

(d) Loans to Employees and KMP

The Company extends interest-free loans to employees and Key Managerial Personnel under its staff welfare policy. These loans are short-term in nature (repayable within the service tenure of the employee) and individually immaterial. The Company has assessed that the notional benefit element (difference between fair value at a market interest rate and the interest-free carrying amount) is not material at the financial statement level. Accordingly, carrying amount is considered to be a reasonable approximation of fair value.

(e) Security Deposits Paid

Security and rental deposits paid to lessors and counterparties represent refundable deposits held for the duration of lease or service contracts. They bear no interest and may have tenures of 1 to 10 years. Under Ind AS 109, these are recognised at fair value at initial recognition and subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

(iv) Fair Value Hierarchy

This section explains the judgments and estimates made in determining fair values of financial instruments that are (a) recognized and measured at fair value and (b) measured at amortized cost and for which fair values are disclosed in financial statements. To provide an indication about reliability of inputs used in determining fair value, Company has classified its financial instruments into three levels prescribed under accounting standard. An explanation of each level follows underneath the table:

Fair value of financial instruments as referred to in note above has been classified into three categories depending on inputs used in valuation technique. Hierarchy gives highest priority to quoted prices in active market for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurement) and lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 measurements).

The categories used are as follows:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: The fair value of Financial Instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques which maximize the use of observable market data relied as little as possible on entity specific estimates.

Level 3: If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

(i) Equity instruments are publicly traded on NSE/BSE and are classified at Level 1 using quoted market prices (unadjusted) at the balance sheet date. (ii) Mutual fund units are unquoted. Their NAV is determined by the respective fund houses on a daily basis using observable market prices of the underlying securities. Since the NAV is directly and indirectly observable, these instruments are classified at Level 2. (iii) There are no financial instruments measured at fair value at Level 3 as at 31st March, 2026 or 31st March, 2025. Accordingly, no Level 3 roll-forward or sensitivity analysis is required. (iv) During both reporting periods, there were no transfers between Level 1, Level 2, or Level 3.

Company's policy is to recognize transfers into and transfer out of fair value hierarchy levels as at the end of the reporting period.

During the year ended 31st March, 2026 and 31st March, 2025 there were no transfers between level 1 and level 2 fair value measurements and no transfer into and out of level 3 fair value measurement.

Valuation Processes for Level 3 Instruments

The Company's finance function, under the supervision of the Executive Director (Finance) and CFO, is responsible for determining the fair value of security deposits at each reporting date. Fair valuation is determined based on the present value of future cash flows, wherein the cash flows comprise the contractual repayment amounts of the deposits. The discount rate applied is the Company's incremental borrowing rate for a similar tenor, derived from prevailing working capital borrowing arrangements with its bankers. As this input is entity-specific and not directly observable in active markets, the valuation is classified under Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy.

40. Financial Risk Management Objectives and policies

The Company's principal financial liabilities, other than derivatives, comprise loans and borrowings and trade and other payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Company's operations and to provide guarantees to support its operations. The Company's principal financial assets include loans, trade and other receivables, and cash and cash equivalents that derive directly from its operations. The Company also holds FVTPL investments and enters into derivative transactions.

The Risk Management Committee's focus is to foresee the unpredictability and minimise potential adverse effects on the Company's financial performance. The Company's overall risk management procedures to minimise the potential adverse effects of financial market on the Company's performance are as follows:

- Currency Risk
- Price Risk
- Commodity Price Risk
- Interest Rate Risk
- Liquidity Risk
- Credit Risk

Above risks may affect Company's income and expenses, or value of its financial instruments. Company's exposure to and management of these risks are explained below:

(b) Currency Risk - Sensitivity to Risk:

Following table demonstrates sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in USD, EUR, AUD exchange rates, with all other variables held constant. Impact on company profit before tax is due to changes in fair value of monetary assets and liabilities. Foreign currency exposures recognized by Company that have not been hedged by a derivative instrument or otherwise are as under:

(₹ in Million)

Particulars	Impact on profit before tax on increase		Impact on profit before tax on decrease

AUD – Increase/ Decrease by 5%	49.29	33.64	(49.29)	(33.64)

Currency Risk due to receivables net of payable in Nepali Rupees (NPR):

Since exchange rate between INR and NPR is fixed, impact on company profit before tax due to change in exchange rate is negligible. Remittances from Nepal, are subject to fulfilment of certain conditions imposed by the local Government at Nepal.

The Company uses derivative instruments such as forward exchange contracts and interest rate swaps for risk management purposes and accounts for them at fair value through profit or loss. However, there were no derivative contracts outstanding as at the reporting date (previous year: Nil), and accordingly, no related notional or fair value disclosures are presented.

(c) Price Risk - Potential Impact of Risk & Management Policy

(i) Company is exposed to price risk due to its investment in Equity Shares & Mutual Funds. Price risk arises due to uncertainties about future market values of these investments.

(ii) Company reviews its investments at regular intervals in order to minimize price risk arising from investments in Equity Shares & Mutual Funds.

(iii) Majority of investments of Company are publicly traded and listed in BSE/NSE. Carrying amounts of the Company's investment in Equity Shares & Mutual Funds at the end of the reporting period are given in Note 7.

(d) Price Risk - Sensitivity to Risk

Following table demonstrates sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in equity index where investments of Company are listed. Impact on company's profit before tax is due to changes in NSE Index.

(₹ in Million)

Particulars	Impact on profit before tax		Impact on Other Components of Equity before tax

NSE Index Decrease by 5%	-	-	(0.85)	(0.86)

(e) Commodity Price Risk - Potential Impact of Risk & Management Policy

The Company is affected by the price volatility of certain commodities. Its operating activities require the ongoing manufacture of industrial and domestic cable and therefore require a continuous supply of major items of raw material viz Copper and Aluminium. Due to volatility in prices of Copper and Aluminium, Company has entered into various purchase contracts for these materials. The Company's Board of Directors has adopted a risk management strategy regarding commodity price risk and its mitigation. The Company partly mitigated the risk of price volatility by entering into the contract for purchase of these raw material based on average price of each month.

Following table demonstrates sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in inventory due to volatility in prices of Copper and Aluminium.

(₹ in Million)

Particulars	Impact on inventory (Raw Material and Work in progress)

Copper Price Increase by 2%	97.88	61.76
Copper Price Decrease by 2%	(97.88)	(61.76)
Aluminium Price Increase by 2%	46.83	32.73
Aluminium Price Decrease by 2%	(46.83)	(32.73)

(f) Interest Rate Risk - Potential Impact of Risk & Management Policy

(i) Company invests in fixed deposits for a period between 8 days to 7 years. All fixed deposits are with banks, accordingly there is no significant interest rate risk pertaining to these deposits.

(ii) Interest rate risk is the risk that fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. Company's exposure to risk of changes in market interest rates relates primarily to the Company's long-term debt obligations with floating interest rates and fixed deposits. Company's fixed rate borrowings and deposits are carried at amortized cost. They are therefore not subject to interest rate risk as defined in Ind AS 107, since neither carrying amount nor future cash flows will fluctuate because of a change in market interest rates. The Company also uses interest rate swap to mitigate the interest rate risk.

(iii) Risk is managed by Company by maintaining an appropriate mix between fixed and floating rate of borrowings.

Exposure of Company's borrowing to interest rate changes at end of reporting period are as follows:

(₹ in Million)

Particulars	31st March, 2026	31st March, 2025
Variable rate borrowings	220.00	510.03
Fixed rate borrowings	1,642.00	1,273.22
Total borrowings	1,862.00	1,783.25

Refer Note 18 for maturities of Company borrowings

(g) Interest Rate Risk – Sensitivity

Sensitivity analysis below has been determined based on exposure to interest rates for non-derivative instruments at end of reporting period. For floating rate liabilities, analysis is prepared assuming amount of liability outstanding at end of reporting period was outstanding for whole year.

(₹ in Million)

(h) Credit Risk

(i) Credit risk refers to risk that counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to Company.

(ii) Company is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily Trade Receivables, Contract Assets, Loan and security deposit and also from its investing activities including deposits with banks, forex transactions and other financial instruments) for receivables, cash and cash equivalents, short-term investments and derivative financial instruments. Credit limits are set based on a counterparty value. Methodology used to set list of counterparty limits includes, counterparty Credit Ratings (CR) and sector exposure. Evolution of counterparties is monitored regularly, taking into consideration CR and sector exposure evolution. As a result of this review, changes on credit limits and risk allocation are carried out.

(iii) In respect of its investments, Company aims to minimize its financial credit risk through application of risk management policies.

(iv) For financial instruments, Company attempts to limit credit risk by only dealing with reputed banks and financial institutions.

(v) None of Company's cash equivalents, including fixed deposits with banks, are past due or impaired.

(vi) Trade receivables and contract assets are subject to defined credit limits, approval processes, and ongoing monitoring controls. Credit limits are established based on each customer's credit profile and prevailing market conditions, and are reviewed periodically to reflect changes in customer creditworthiness. Given the Company's diversified customer base and broad geographical presence, exposure to concentration of credit risk is not significant.

The Company recognises impairment on trade receivables and contract assets in accordance with the Expected Credit Loss (ECL) model under Ind AS 109. Lifetime ECL is applied to trade receivables, and 12-month ECL is applied to contract assets.

As a practical expedient the Company has adopted 'Simplified Approach' using the provision matrix method for recognition of expected loss on trade receivables. The provision matrix is based on three years rolling average default rates observed over the expected life of the trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. These average default rates are applied on total credit risk exposure on trade receivables and outstanding for more than one year at the reporting date to determine lifetime Expected Credit Losses.

Provisions for doubtful receivables are determined on both an individual and collective basis, taking into account customer ageing, category, specific credit circumstances, and the financial condition and repayment capacity of customers. Where receivables are identified as impaired, the Company actively pursues recovery and enforces compliance with agreed credit terms. In addition to historical loss patterns, the Company incorporates forward-looking inputs into its impairment assessment, including expected delays in collections, changes in customer credit risk, and relevant macroeconomic and sector-specific developments. This assessment is performed across all business segments, having regard to the nature of operations, demand outlook, and the financial strength of customers. Customers exhibiting signs of financial stress are closely monitored, and appropriate risk mitigation measures are undertaken. These may include revision of credit terms, discounting of receivables with partial recourse, or, where necessary, recognition of revenue only upon receipt of consideration from customers.

The Company applies the Expected Credit Loss (ECL) model to contract assets based on their short-term nature. As contract assets primarily represent unbilled revenue that is created and realised within the same operating cycle, the Company considers 12-month ECL to be appropriate. Accordingly, given the limited credit risk exposure over the short duration, no material difference between 12-month and lifetime ECL is expected.

In certain cases, the Company enters into channel financing arrangements involving the sale of trade receivables to financing institutions. Where receivables are transferred without recourse and the Company neither retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership nor retains control over the financial assets, such receivables are derecognised upon transfer in accordance with Ind AS 109. These transactions generally do not give rise to material gains or losses in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Where receivables are transferred with recourse, the Company retains substantially all risks and rewards, primarily credit risk. Such receivables continue to be recognised in the Statement of Financial Position, and the consideration received is classified as a financial liability. Under these arrangements, customers remit payments directly to the financing institution, which in turn adjusts the Company's utilised credit facility accordingly.

For Ageing of Trade Receivables and Movement of Expected Credit Loss Refer Note 12.
